INFLATION HITS RECORD LOW OF 0.25% IN OCT ON BACK OF GST CUTS

Tax cuts on nearly 400 mass-consumption items, coupled with subdued prices for vegetables, fruits and eggs helped push retail inflation to record low

FOOD INFLATION STAYS IN NEGATIVE ZONE

Food inflation remained negative at -5.02%, as prices of vegetables, cereals and pulses eased amid improved supplies and favourable weather. Vegetable prices fell 28% year-on-year, while pulses and spices declined by 16% and just over 3%, respectively. Clothing and footwear recorded only a 1.7% annual rise, thanks to GST rate cuts | P15

FUELS HOPE OF FURTHER RATE CUT IN DECEMBER

- Inflation stood at 1.44% in September and 6.21% in October 2024. The figure for this October was the lowest in the current series (base year 2012), which tracked data since January 2014
- The record low inflation raises hopes for another round of rate cut, when the RBI monetary policy committee meets in December

IT'S OFFICIAL: RED FORT BLAST WAS TERROR ATTACK

TWO days after the Red Fort car blast, the government for the first time categorised it as a terror strike.

A Union Cabinet meeting led by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday passed a resolution expressing profound grief over the loss of 12 lives in the explosion, describing it as an "act of heinous terror" by anti-national forces.

The carefully worded resolution restricted itself to the phrase 'anti-national forces', stopping short of pointing fingers at any external elements.

However, it said, "The Cabinet directs that the investigation into the incident be pursued with the utmost urgency and professionalism so that the perpetrators, their collaborators and their sponsors are identified and brought to justice without delay. The situation continues to be closely monitored at the highest levels of the government."

A meeting of the Cabinet Committee on Security was also convened at the prime minister's residence to take stock of the situation.

Earlier in the day, Prime Minister Modi visited the LNJP Hospital after his arrival from Bhutan, and interacted with survivors of the blast. Expressing deep concern over the incident, he reaffirmed the government's commitment to ensuring justice. "Those behind the conspiracy will be brought to justice," he asserted.

"Went to LNJP Hospital and met those injured during the blast in Delhi. Praying for everyone's quick recovery. Those behind the conspiracy will be brought to justice!" Modi said in a post on X.

In Faridabad, the police seized a red Ford EcoSport car in Khandawali village for which a lookout notice was issued earlier in the day, as it said to be registered in the name of Dr Umar Un Nabi, who possibly died in the Red Fort blast.

The car will be checked for explosives by the forensics department. Police are trying to ascertain how it reached the village as also the whereabouts of its occupants who abandoning the vehicle.

Back to the Cabinet resolution, it reiterated India's commitment to the policy of 'zero tolerance' towards terrorism in all its forms and manifestations. It also recorded its appreciation for the statements of solidarity from many nations across the world.

Commending the role played by the probe agencies, it said, "The Cabinet notes with appreciation the timely and coordinated response of the authorities, security agencies and citizens, who acted with courage and compassion in the face of adversity. Their dedication and sense of duty are deeply commendable." P12

Woman doctor, brother planned lone-wolf strikes

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

TWO siblings, Dr Shaheen Shahid and Dr Parvez Sayeed, who were arrested over alleged links to a Jaish-e-Mohammed terror module, had been preparing to carry out lone-wolf attacks across the country for the past two years, sources said on Wednesday.

The duo is being questioned by the Jammu and Kashmir Police and various central probe agencies.

Dr Shaheen was arrested on Monday after police found arms and ammunition in a car registered in her name. During interrogation, she revealed her younger brother, Dr Parvez Ansari's involvement in terror activities. Police subsequently searched Dr Ansari's residence in Madiaon, Lucknow, and seized his laptop, tablet and mobile phones.

The two admitted to being in touch with terror suspects Dr Muzammil and Dr Adeel Ahmad, who were also arrested on Monday, through multiple encrypted communication platforms and foreign-based messaging apps. After each virtual meeting, they would delete chats, call logs and communication histories to destroy evidence and avoid tracking, sources added. The probe team managed to retrieve partial data fragments, which are now being analysed to trace their wider network.

However, investigators believe that while the two were not under a structured command chain, they were ideologically aligned and motivated to act as lone-wolf attackers targeting public places or sensitive installations.

31-member JPC on bills to remove PM, CMs formed

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

THE Parliament on Wednesday constituted a 31-member Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) that will scrutinise the bills on the removal of the prime minister, chief ministers, and ministers if they are arrested for 30 days straight on serious criminal charges.

The committee will be headed by Lok Sabha member and BJP leader Aparajita Sarangi, as per a Lok Sabha bulletin. The panel comprises 21 members from the Lok Sabha and 10 from Rajya Sabha.

Some of the Lok Sabha members in the panel include Ravi Shankar Prasad, Bhartruhari Mahtab, Pradan Baruah, Brijmohan Agrawal, Vishnu Dayal Ram and Harsimrat Kaur Badal. From the Rajya Sabha, the nominated members include Brij Lal, Ujjwal Nikam, Nabam Rebia, Dr K Laxman, Sudha Murty, Birendra Prasad Baishya, and S Niranjan Reddy.

The committee has been mandated to submit its report in the winter session, scheduled from December 1-19.

However, 340 members of the main Opposition parties including Congress, Trinamool Congress, Samajwadi Party, Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam and the Left parties boycotted the panel.

Last month, NCP (Sharad Pawar) broke ranks with the INDIA bloc and decided to be part of the panel. NCP(SP)'s Supriya Sule, who is a member of the new panel, had earlier said that her party was not breaking ranks with the Opposition by choosing to be part of the committee. Apart from NCP (SP), AIMIM'S Asaduddin Owaisi, BJD, YSRCP, and SAD joined the panel.

It's a mockery as joint Oppn is absent: Cong

The Congress termed the JPC a mockery saying the joint Opposition representing the majority of Indians is absent. The party alleged it is a "JPC of the BJP and its B-Team"

COW SLAUGHTER

Life term for 3 in Guj in first-of-its-kind verdict

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@Ahmedabad

IN possibly the first such verdict in the country, the Amreli Sessions Court in Gujarat has sentenced three persons to life imprisonment in a cow slaughter case and imposed a fine of ₹6.08 lakh each on them.

"For the first time in the history of the country, those guilty of cow slaughter have been sentenced to life imprisonment. This is not just a verdict — it is a message. Those who commit injustice against the mother cow, a symbol of our faith and culture, will not be spared," Gujarat Home Minister Harsh Sanghvi posted on X.

Hailing it as a landmark verdict, the state government said the ruling will go a long way in enforcing cow protection laws. Sources said this is the first time in the state's history that such harsh punishment has been given in a single case.

The verdict, delivered by Sessions Judge Rizwanaben Bukhari on Tuesday, follows a year-long trial that shook the small town of Amreli and ignited statewide discussion on the provisions of the Gujarat Animal Protection Act.

The court held the accused — Akram Haji Solanki, Sattar Ismail Solanki, and Qasim Solanki — guilty of slaughtering cows and trafficking beef.

The case goes back to November 6, 2023 when Amreli police raided the house of Akram Solanki following on a tip-off and recovered slaughtered animal parts, tails, skins, and leg pieces. Qasim was nabbed on the spot but Akram and Sattar fled. They were caught later.

B'luru admin evaluating 4 properties of enemies of India

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE deputy commissioner of Bengaluru Urban district, who has been designated as the Deputy Custodian of Enemy Property by the central government, is evaluating the value of four enemy properties identified in Bengaluru.

These properties are located on Raj Bhavan Road, Victoria Road, Kalasipalya and Grant Road.

As per the documents accessed by The New Indian Express, the property bearing municipal no-3 and 5 in ward number 78 located on a prime location on Raj Bhavan Road, totally measuring 1,23,504 sqft, an 8,845 sqft property bearing no 2 & 8 on Victoria Road, property measuring 70x30 on site no 41 on Kalasipalya 2nd Main Road, and a hotel bearing number 4 on Grant Road have been identified as 'enemy properties'. They will be seized by the Union government as per the provisions of the Enemy Property Act 1968.

"The current market value of the property on Raj Bhavan Road alone may be over Rs 200 crore. However, a detailed report on measurements, tenant details, and encroachment, if any, and the exact value will all be shared with the Union government in a sealed cover," said a senior official in the district administration office.

"The right to seize such properties lies with the central government. It has sought details like the property value, and the Urban District Administration is in the process of checking the value of such properties. Once the process is completed, it will be communicated to the union government. We will then wait for further directions from 'Custodian of Enemy Property of India' (CEPI)," said G Jagadeesha, Bengaluru Urban DC.

"There is no clarity as to who the tenants are corresponding with for rental agreements and payment of rent for such properties. Their owners are considered enemies of India working against the interests of the country. Once the valuation is done, the notices are sent to occupants of the properties and further action will be taken as per CEPI directions," said another source.

The Union government had issued directions to take over enemy properties and auction them as per the Enemy Property Act 1968. It had designated the deputy commissioner of Bengaluru Urban district as the Deputy Custodian of Enemy Property in November 2024.

Failing to steal from bank, thieves set premises on fire

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS
@ Yellapur (Uttara Kannada)

IN a theft gone wrong, scared thieves who had gone to steal from a bank allegedly set the premises on fire, causing severe damage to documents and computers in the bank. There is no footage of the criminals either from inside the bank as CCTVs, their footage and digital TV recorder have been destroyed in the blaze.

In the early hours of Wednesday, the thieves broke open the windows of Karnataka Vikas Grameen Bank at Ummachgi in Yellapur tauk in Uttara Kannada district and gained entry. When they tried to open the vault, the siren started to ring. The thieves attempted to stop the alarm, but could not. Scared that they would be caught, the thieves set the bank on fire and fled from the spot, officials said.

People in the neighbourhood saw smoke billowing from the bank, and alerted bank officials, who called the police and fire and emergency service. The police found the window broken and CCTV and digital TV recorder severely damaged.

Geetha Patil told TNIE that the thieves might have tried to disconnect CCTV cameras, triggering a short-circuit that caused the fire. P7

MGNREGA contract workers in state not paid for last 4 months

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

OUTSOURCED employees of MGNREGA scheme in Karnataka have not been paid salaries for the last four months. They say it is because of new software that has not been mapped with Khajane II (K2) software, which manages salaries of all state government employees. But the officials concerned say the central government is yet to release funds for Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) scheme.

The scheme has 3,657 outsourced staff across the state who have not been paid since July this year. They have also not been paid their travel and dearness allowances for the last 10 months. The scheme in the state has 27 disaster management information system officials, 27 district account managers, 202 technical coordinators, 222 taluk MBS, 294 BG coordinators, 299 BLRP, 799 technical assistants and others working in this project. P7

India's first silk museum to come up in Mysuru

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA, India's largest silk producer, will have another feather in its cap. The country's first silk museum will be established in Mysuru, which is famous for its silk sarees. The museum will showcase the entire history of silk in India, as well as the entire cocoon-to-garment process.

The Central government has already started silk tourism in Jammu and Kashmir and is also working on establishing another circuit in Topatali in Assam. While the state government and Centre are popularising the silk chain and fabric in these two states, in Mysuru, a museum showcasing how silk thread is procured – from the pupa stage to how its woven into a fabric will be shown, said Central Silk Board's (CSB) National Silkworm Seed Organisation (NSSO) Director Dr Manthira Moorthy.

"This will be the first-ever and unique museum. A dedicated team is being deployed to work on this. The total cost of the project will be known after tenders are finalised. The museum will be set up in CSB's centre in Mysuru, which is spread across 120 acres," he said.

For creating the museum, CSB officials have studied similar centres in China and Italy. They have also studied the best of collections in Italy and 2000-year-old collections in China. Work has begun to gather traditional and heritage collections from all silk-producing states and farmers to showcase in the museum. P7

BDA gives Arkavathi site allottees land at NPKL, but they aren't happy

They complain NPKL not fully developed, and one cannot even reach sites easily

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WHILE the 755 site allottees of Arkavathi Layout who were unable to take possession of their sites were given alternative sites at the Nada Prabhu Kempegowda Layout (NPKL) in just 15 minutes, with Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) claiming it a historical move, the allottees are not happy.

They point out that NPKL is underdeveloped and may need five years to be developed, and their dream of owning land and building a home is still a distant dream.

BDA said that those who were running from pillar to post since 2005 to get an alternative site were awarded sites in NPKL, through the computer randomisation process on November 10 and claimed the move a historic milestone.

Advocate Rajeev K Jha, who represents the Arkavathi site allottees, said that they aren't happy with the allotment. "There is so much struggle the allottees have undergone since 2005. Their dream of owning a plot in Bengaluru and building their own house continues to remain a distant dream. NPKL is not fully developed, and allottees cannot even reach their sites easily; that much underdeveloped is the layout. Given the track record and the nature of the BDA's working style, it would take another five years for the road works and all the civic amenities to be built on the layout."

"BDA is trying to cover up bad things", he said. "Imagine the loss of benefits the site owners would have got by now, if there were no issues with the Arkavathi Layout. A father would have invested in land for himself in 2005 in the Arkavathi layout. But BDA has made it a generational purchase where his son or grandson may get the site", he said.

Some of the site owners of NPKL said that there is a lot of development work that is due in the layout. While they admitted that things are moving fast after P Manivannan took over as the Commissioner of BDA, they said work should speed up.

Jha said that they would fight for the loss of benefits incurred by the Arkavathi site allottees and demanded that BDA, as mandated by the RERA (Real Estate Regulatory Authority) to identify the association formed by the allottees.

"Many of these allottees were running from pillar to post since 2005-06 to get an alternate site in NPKL in place of the site they lost in Arakavathi. Now, all 755 of them no longer need to meet or ask anyone. The list is published on the website. They need to get the Sale Deed done immediately", BDA Commissioner P Manivannan posted.

While people appreciated the BDA and the Commissioner for providing alternative sites, some criticised, stating that we are celebrating 'justice delayed' as 'justice delivered'.

GBA chief wants Hosakerehalli flyover work completed soon

GBA Chief Commissioner M Maheshwar Rao (right) looks at a road, during a late-night inspection he undertook, in Bengaluru late on Tuesday | EXPRESS

AS part of the GBA's ongoing infrastructure projects, Chief Commissioner M Maheshwar Rao conducted a late-night inspection from 11.30 pm on Tuesday to 2.45 am on Wednesday to review the progress of white-topping on Hennur-Bagalur Road, asphalting works on the Outer Ring Road and other stretches, as well as the completion of the Hosakerehalli flyover and the JC Road white-topping project.

"White-topping work from Minerva Circle to Town Hall (1 km stretch) on JC Road is in progress. Half of the road has already been completed and opened for traffic, while the remaining 250 meters of work will be finished within four days," said Rao.

He issued strict instructions to the contractor to expedite the work. He also noted that the Hosakerehalli Flyover construction has been completed and minor pending works such as line marking and signage, are to be done.

The Bengaluru East City Corporation is executing approximately 5 km of the Hennur-Bagalur Road with whitetopping work. During his previous visit last week, the chief commissioner had issued strict instructions to the contractor to expedite the work, following which the work has gained momentum.

"The Hosakerehalli Flyover construction has been completed. I have instructed officials to finish minor pending works such as line marking and signage at the earliest," said Rao. Meanwhile, the Traffic Department has allowed traffic on the 380-meter stretch of the flyover.

Rao said that out of the 5 km stretch, whitetopping has already been completed for 1 km on one side and 600 meters on the other. To accelerate completion, traffic will be restricted on a 1.2 km portion from Poorna Prajna School to Gubbi Cross, allowing two-way movement on the remaining half. The work is to be completed within 25 days, after which vehicular movement will be allowed on the finished section. Subsequently, similar phased restrictions of 1.5 km segments will be implemented, as per the approval granted by the Traffic Police.

To prevent traffic congestion during the execution of works, Rao directed the DCP to deploy Home Guards to ensure no vehicles are parked along the work zones and to manage the traffic flow efficiently.

At Bhadrappa Layout, asphalting work is underway under the High-Density Corridor Project to repair damaged road surfaces. The Chief Commissioner instructed that quality be maintained and proper slope ensured for effective drainage of rainwater into the stormwater drains. Rao also directed that a mass cleanliness drive be undertaken along the High-Density Corridor roads to remove waste, debris, and silt from footpaths. Jet sprays should be used for thorough cleaning, and continuous maintenance of cleanliness must be ensured.

In the Bengaluru West City Corporation limits, the Chief Commissioner inspected pothole repair work near the Peenya Basaveshwara Bus Stand and directed engineers to carry out the work as per standards.

Research only means to make India better nation: NRN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WHILE announcing the names of winners of Infosys Prize 2025, Infosys Founder NR Narayana Murthy said that research is the only way to make India a better nation. He added that science and research are not luxuries but necessities for human survival, dignity and progress.

The winners are: Nikhil Agarwal of Massachusetts Institute of Technology (Economics), Sushant Sachdeva of University of Toronto (Engineering and Computer Science), Andrew Ollett of University of Chicago (Humanities and Social Sciences), Anjana Badrinarayanan of National Centre for Biological Sciences, Bengaluru, (Life Sciences), Sabyasachi Mukherjee of Tata Institute of Fundamental Research, Mumbai (Mathematical Sciences), and Karthish Manthiram of California Institute of Technology (Physical Sciences).

The awards are given by the Infosys Science Foundation. Each winner is awarded a gold medal, a citation and a prize money of $100,000.

The winners were selected by an international jury formed for each category. The jury members included eminent scholars and experts from universities across the world. Since its inception, the ISF has recognised groundbreaking research and scholarship who have influenced various aspects of human life. From 2024, the prize has shifted focus to honour researchers under the age of 40, showing the need for early recognition of exceptional talent.

Narayana Murthy went on to say that creating an ecosystem for research is our duty because ultimately, research is the only means we have to make the world a better place. "This is the only way that we can fulfil the dreams of our founding fathers who sacrificed their lives to create an India to give education, health care, shelter and nutrition to the poorest child in the remotest village. The responsibility of fulfilling the dreams of forefathers lies on the shoulders of Infosys Prize laureates and I am sure they will succeed in it through their research."

LIST OF SIX AWARDEES

ECONOMICS

Nikhil Agarwal, Paul A Samuelson professor Economics in Massachusetts Institute of Technology for his pioneering contributions to market design, including the development and implementation of pathbreaking methodology for empirical studies of allocation mechanisms, including school choice, medical residency, and kidney exchanges. His work has transformed this rudimentary literature into one anchored in data, providing new insights into policy design.

ENGINEERING AND COMPUTER SCIENCE

Sushant Sachdeva, Associate Professor (CSC) of Mathematical and Computational Sciences at the University of Toronto, for his deep insights into mathematical optimisation and the resolution of longstanding open questions in algorithmic theory that has established new standards on achievable performance in computational problems affecting information flows across societal lifelines, including the internet, transportation, and communication networks.

HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

Andrew Ollett, Associate Professor in the Department of South Asian Languages and Civilizations at the University of Chicago, who is the world's foremost scholar of the Prakrit languages. His mastery in Sanskrit, Prakrit, Kannada, Tamil, Old Javanese, and Chinese, modern European languages and his training in Greek and Latin are exemplary.

MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES

Sabyasachi Mukherjee, Associate Professor at the School of Mathematics at Tata Institute of Fundamental Research, Mumbai, for his powerful work that links two distinct areas of mathematics—the dynamics of Kleinian group actions and the iteration of holomorphic and anti-holomorphic maps in complex dynamics.

LIFE SCIENCES

Anjana Badrinarayanan, Associate Professor at the National Centre for Biological Sciences, Bengaluru, for her pioneering contributions to understanding mechanisms of genome maintenance and repair. Through innovative live-cell imaging combined with genetic and cell biological approaches, her work has revealed fundamental principles of how DNA damage is repaired, demonstrated mutagenesis in non-dividing cells, and identified novel pathways of mitochondrial DNA damage responses.

PHYSICAL SCIENCES

Karthish Manthiram, Professor of Chemical Engineering at the California Institute of Technology, for his pioneering work on sustainable electrochemical routes to essential chemicals. His breakthroughs in lithium-mediated ammonia synthesis and oxygen-atom transfer catalysis have transformed our understanding of electrified chemical manufacturing.

13th November : This Life Miraculous These early stages of Mercury and Jupiter's retrograde remind us that most brilliant creative processes involve some version of goopy chaos. Emotional work that feels grasping and inept as it goes down can still be glorious as it grows up. Do not doubt that the mess is just something that comes with it. Can you see it as the residue of this life miraculous?

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

You've been managing, fixing and explaining for what feels like an entire season, so today's opportunity to step back is a welcome reprieve. How refreshing it will be to see things fall into place without your constant tending.

TAURUS
(Apr. 20 - May 20)

Fresh faces and ideas are part of the landscape. Pace yourself. Everything new is thrilling at first, but what goes beyond the rush of novelty? That's where the real truth about what's worth pursuing starts to come together.

GEMINI
(May 21 - June 21)

You're curious about others. You ask good questions and great follow-up questions and hold yourself to a near-divine standard of understanding. Meanwhile, you often forgive others their incuriousness, which gets old. Seek reciprocity and mutuality.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 22)

Many of your ancestors didn't live to see their dreams come true, but if they could see you now, they would toast your freedoms, your rich variety of choices and the power you have over your own destiny. Does it make you want to celebrate these things, too?

(July 23 - Aug. 22)

Like the tide returning to the shore, like the sun's daily rise, like the moon in faithful orbit, you show up for your people. Whether or not they notice, appreciate or return your devotion has no bearing on your consistency. That's love.

VIRGO
(Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)

Often, you can make things happen with emotions like determination, passion, enthusiasm and desire. Not today. Today, you will get what you want rather casually, even lazily. It's as though what you want is attracted to your nonchalance.

LIBRA
(Sept. 23 - Oct. 23)

It's the paradox of abundance: to keep something flowing, it must be contained. Rivers need banks. Fire needs a hearth. Light needs a lamp. Without a vessel, energy disperses. Boundaries are the vessel that keeps love alive.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 21)

You know what you're doing, from the big picture to the detailed minutiae. There was a time you didn't know enough to bring a project together, but now you'll make up for it, accomplishing all the things you couldn't before.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)

You've reached a stage where you're no longer reacting automatically to people who used to push your buttons. Instead of letting them dictate how you feel or behave, you're staying conscious, centered and on-purpose.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)

You'll have the honor of a special request. It feels good to be chosen, even though what you're chosen for will be a substantial amount of work. The people involved will make the challenge a pleasure.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

You don't have to earn the right to rest. Fatigue isn't a moral failure; it's a sign you've been working. Invisible work counts, too. Let yourself recover. Step away for a few hours and watch the world manage fine without you.

PISCES
(Feb. 19 - Mar 20)

You try to lead with attractiveness, but that doesn't mean you have to make big efforts every single time. Today, you get optimal results showing up however you really feel. Those close to you will love you all the more for it.

TRANSFORMING WOMEN'S LIVES

Continuing its focus on women-centric governance, the double-engine government has placed special emphasis on women's empowerment and welfare. Flagship initiatives such as the Mukhyamantri Kanya Sumangala Yojana, Mukhyamantri Samuhik Vivah Yojana, free vaccination, free education up to graduation, and adequate representation in government jobs have played a pivotal role in shaping a brighter and more secure future for women. Uttar Pradesh has emerged as the best-performing state in implementing central government schemes-be it free gas connections under the PM Ujjwala Yojana or the Izzatghar (toilet) facility under Swachh Bharat Mission-bringing transformative changes in women's lives. The state also leads in granting ownership rights to women under the PM Svamitva Yojana and PM Awas Yojana. To ensure safety and justice, the security framework has been further strengthened, resulting in the highest conviction rate in the country for crimes against women and girls. Today, the women of Uttar Pradesh are stepping forward with confidence, leading by example, and making significant contributions across all spheres of development.

MUKHYAMANTRI KANYA SUMANGLA YOJANA

The Mukhyamantri Kanya Sumangla Yojana is a conditional cash transfer scheme in Uttar Pradesh, India, launched to provide financial assistance to families with a girl child. Its goals are to improve the girl child's health and education, prevent social ills like female feticide and child marriage, and ultimately promote gender equality. Benefits are provided in six stages from birth to higher education, with total aid reaching up to Rs. 25,000.

How it works : This is a conditional cash transfer scheme, meaning benefits are given in stages upon meeting specific criteria.

Financial assistance is transferred directly to the girl's family bank account through the PFMS system.

The scheme is divided into six stages, with financial benefits provided at different points from birth through enrollment in a degree or diploma course.

To apply : Applications can be submitted online through the official portal: mksy.up.gov.in.

25.96 lakh daughters have benefited from Mukhyamantri Kanya Sumangla Yojana, till date

MUKHYAMANTRI SAMUHIK VIVAH YOJANA

This is a welfare initiative by the Uttar Pradesh government to provide financial assistance and support for the weddings of daughters from economically weaker families across all communities.

Eligibility: The scheme is open to all communities in Uttar Pradesh with an annual family income of up to ₹3,00,000. The bride must be at least 18 years old, and the groom at least 21 years old.

Financial Assistance: As of the financial year 2025-26, the total financial assistance per couple has been increased to ₹1 lakh:

- ₹60,000 is deposited directly into the bride's bank account to help her establish her household.
- ₹25,000 is provided for essential wedding items like apparel, ornaments, and utensils.
- ₹15,000 is allocated for the expenses of organizing the mass marriage ceremony.

Process: Eligible applicants can apply through the official website shadianudan.upsdc.gov.in and submit the required documents to the local Social Welfare Department office. The scheme emphasizes transparency, requiring biometric attendance and careful verification of applicants.

A total of 4.67 lakh couples have been married so far under the Mukhyamantri Samuhik Vivah Yojana

WOMEN'S ECONOMIC EMPOWERMENT

The government of Uttar Pradesh (UP) recently launched India's first-ever district-level Women's Economic Empowerment (WEE) Index to track the impact of its schemes and guide policy-making for women's economic participation.

About the UP WEE Index: The WEE Index, developed by the UP Planning Department in partnership with The Udaiti Foundation, is a data-driven tool covering all 75 districts of the state. It evaluates women's economic power across five key parameters:

- Employment/Education & Skill Development/ Entrepreneurship/ Livelihood & Mobility/Safety & Inclusive Infrastructure

The index aims to shift focus from just participation numbers to identifying and addressing structural barriers that limit women's empowerment, such as limited access to credit for entrepreneurs despite high skill-training enrollment.

Top Performers ("Champions"): Districts such as Lucknow, Kanpur Nagar, Varanasi, Jhansi, Gautam Buddha Nagar, and Prayagraj have been categorised as "Champions," showing strong outcomes due to effective scheme implementation and robust structural support.

Areas Needing Focus ("Aspirational"): Districts including Chandauli, Baghpat, Badaun, Sitapur, and Shravasti have been classified as "Aspirational," requiring more targeted campaigns in education, safety, and self-employment.

Policy Actions: The UP government has integrated the WEE Index into the Chief Minister's Control Room for real-time monitoring and directed all departments to use it as a core tool for policy formulation.

Legislative Changes: The government has removed restrictions that previously prohibited women from working in 29 categories of factories classified as hazardous, allowing them to work night shifts with proper safety and transport facilities provided by employers.

Increased Participation: Government initiatives have helped increase women's participation in the workforce. Women now account for 53% of registrations on the e-Shram portal, and the state has facilitated the formation of over 10 lakh self-help groups, connecting more than 1 crore women to income-generating activities.

The UP government views the WEE Index as a roadmap for data-driven, gender-inclusive policymaking to unlock the full potential of its female workforce and achieve inclusive growth.

SEC MOVES HC AGAINST STATE OVER GP POLLS

Poll body approaches court against State Govt over delay in providing reservation notification to hold polls for 5,950 GPs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE State Election Commission (SEC) moved the High Court of Karnataka with a public interest litigation against the State Government, alleging that the state is yet to provide the final reservation notification to conduct the elections to 5,950 Gram Panchayats for which the term will expire by January 2026, despite several letters being written.

It was contended by the SEC that there is a constitutional mandate on it to conduct elections within the stipulated period. However, the delay by the state would result in the appointment of administrators, thereby not only violating the mandate contained under Article 243-E of the Constitution but also the law laid down by the Supreme Court, the SEC told the HC.

A division bench of Chief Justice Vibhu Bakhru and Justice CM Poonacha issued notice to the chief secretary and additional chief secretary (ACS), Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Department, after hearing the petition filed by the SEC, represented by its under secretary.

The SEC stated that a letter dated May 7, 2025, was written to the ACS informing them that the State Government was required to fix the number of elected members of GPs and determine the reservations for various categories. It was also informed that in light of the formation of new taluks in the state and upgradation of certain GPs as smaller urban areas, the reconstitution of 42 GPs, fixation of the total number of elected members of such GPs, and reservations for various categories were pending with the State Government since 2020.

The SEC further requested the ACS to issue appropriate directives to deputy commissioners across the state to publish the notification providing reservation for various categories as stipulated under Section 5(5) of the Karnataka Gram Swaraj and Panchayat Raj Act, 1993, by following the principles of rotation and furnish the same to it before July 2025. As there was no response, the SEC again addressed a letter dated June 26, 2025, to the chief secretary, intimating that the tenure of GPs was expiring in January 2026 and requesting to issue directives to the RDPR to issue the notification indicating the seats reserved for various categories.

"Though the State Election Commission has been repeatedly requesting the State Government to furnish the final reservation notification, the same has not been published to date. This will lead to a delay in conducting elections and will pave the way for the appointment of administrators to such GPs. Under such circumstances, the SEC is handicapped in taking further steps in the preparation, announcing, and conducting of the elections to GPs. Therefore, this petition has been filed seeking directives to the state to issue final notification of reservation of seats under Section 5(5) of the Act," the State Election Commission told the court.

Deputy CM DK Shivakumar greets Singapore's Minister for Foreign Affairs, Trade and Industry Gan Siew Huang in Bengaluru on Wednesday | EXPRESS

SINGAPORE'S Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, Trade, and Industry Gan Siow Huang on Wednesday discussed opportunities to deepen partnerships between Karnataka and Singapore in trade, innovation, and skill development with Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and Industries Minister MB Patil.

"We discussed opportunities to deepen partnerships in trade, innovation, and skill development between Karnataka and Singapore," Shivakumar said.

Patil and Gan discussed investments and industrial collaboration between Karnataka and Singapore. Patil said Singapore is globally recognised for its excellence in the aviation sector, particularly in the Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul (MRO) segment.

"I highlighted Karnataka's strong potential in aviation MRO, information technology, semiconductors, fintech, chip design, and pharmaceutical manufacturing sectors. I plan to visit Singapore in early 2026 to advance bilateral cooperation. In advance, we will prepare a detailed action plan at the official level. This partnership will mark a new chapter in industrial growth, investment promotion, and technology exchange," he added.

Since 2020, Singaporean companies have invested USD 174.88 billion in India, accounting for about 24% of the country's total FDI inflow. Over 9,000 Indian companies are operating in Singapore, while 440 Singaporean firms are active in India, Patil added.

US delegation

Patil also held discussions with President of the Senate of the US State of Utah Jabez Stuart Adams and President and CEO of the World Trade Center Utah Jonathan Freedman. They discussed investment opportunities in Karnataka in the aerospace, defence, and technology sectors.

"Companies from Utah are exploring opportunities in sectors such as manufacturing, life sciences, diagnostics, education, and e-mobility. We briefed Mr Adams and Mr Freedman about Karnataka's industrial policy, infrastructure, incentives, concessions, and single-window clearance system," he added.

With Bengaluru Tech Summit (BTS) round the corner, a high-level trade delegation led by Oxana Agafonova, Attaché for IT Issues & Electronics, Russian Trade Commission, Embassy of Russia in India, met IT/BT Minister Priyank Kharge on Wednesday.

The Russian delegation, comprising senior representatives of leading Russian technology firms, will explore opportunities for tech collaboration between Russian and Indian firms in Electronic Design Automation (EDA), Smart City Technologies, and Digital Engineering Solutions, according to a release.

"Karnataka is happy to support companies looking at market access, partnership or collaboration-building, or even setting up their manufacturing units here," said Priyank, assuring the state's support to Russian firms looking to establish or expand their presence in the state.

Ahead of CM's Delhi visit, Satish meets Cong brass

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

AHEAD of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's visit to Delhi, Public Works Minister Satish Jarkiholi called on AICC General Secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala, who is also party incharge of Karnataka affairs, on Tuesday evening and AICC General Secretary (Organisation) KC Venugopal on Wednesday.

Satish—considered Siddaramaiah's Man Friday—meeting the duo assumes significance as they are considered to be close aides of Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi. It is to be seen whether Rahul meets Siddaramaiah during the latter's visit to the national capital on November 15.

According to Congress insiders, Satish apprised the party high command leaders of the political developments in the state and the pros and cons of changing the leadership. Satish favoured the continuation of Siddaramaiah as the CM and suggested a reshuffle of the cabinet, added the sources. He also discussed the change in the KPCC president and expressed his desire to take the mantle, the sources added.

With two ministerial berths vacant, following the resignation of B Nagendra and dismissal of KN Rajanna, both hailing from the ST Nayaka community, Satish, who also hails from the same community, suggested the high command leaders to let Siddaramaiah fill the vacant berths, added the sources.

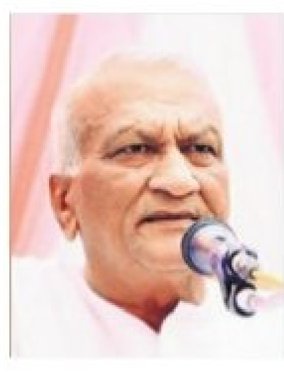
Cong MLA rekindles separate North K'taka statehood demand

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

THE demand for a separate state of North Karnataka has surfaced once again, with a surprising catalyst — a legislator from the ruling Congress.



In a move that may put the state's political establishment in an awkward position, Kagwad MLA Raju Kage has directly petitioned President Droupadi Murmu, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, and Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, accusing the government of "step-motherly treatment" and systemic injustice in the development of the state's northern districts. He has formally demanded the creation of a separate North Karnataka state, comprising 15 districts, to address what he called decades of perceived neglect.

Meanwhile, the Uttara Karnataka Horata Samiti, emboldened by Kage's stand, has issued a stark warning — if their demands are not met in the upcoming Belagavi winter session, they are prepared to hoist a separate flag for North Karnataka atop the Suvarna Vidhana Soudha, the very symbol of the state's legislative power in the region.

MLA Kage is not a new voice in this fight. He is carrying forward the legacy of his late mentor, former minister Umesh Katti, a fiery and persistent advocate for statehood.

"The districts of North Karnataka are continuously discriminated against in matters of development. This cannot be tolerated," Kage said. "I will raise this issue in the winter session and force the government to take notice," he added.

Katti had long argued that Karnataka, with its large population, was administratively unwieldy. "Splitting Karnataka is inevitable. Smaller states are the future. One day, India will have 50 states," he had said.

A headache for Siddu govt

The re-emergence of this contentious issue from within its own ranks presents a major political headache for the Congress government led by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah. That a sitting Congress MLA is now championing a cause previously associated with a BJP leader like Katti underscores the cross-party, deep-seated nature of the regional discontent.

All signs now point to the Belagavi session becoming a flashpoint. With Kage's letter providing a fresh spark and activist groups ready for confrontation, the government faces a critical test of its ability to manage the separate statehood movement.

Chittapur route march dates to be submitted to HC bench today

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI
@ Kalaburagi

The dates for the route march in Chittapur town by RSS and other organisations are likely to be fixed, with the Kalaburagi district administration due to submit its report to the Kalaburagi Bench of the Karnataka High Court on Thursday.

It may be recalled that Kalaburagi HC Bench Justice MG Shukure Kamal had on November 7 directed the district administration to fix dates for different organisations, including the RSS, which have applied for holding a Route March in Chittapur, and submit details to the court on November 13. If the administration fails to fix the dates, the court itself would fix them. Following this, the administration has fixed the dates for the march for RSS and other organisations. Top district officials declined to give details, stating that the matter is before court, and the district administration would abide by the decision of the court, which would be known on Thursday.

The administration might request the court to impose certain conditions on the organisations, including giving details of the number of volunteers participating in the march, the roads on which the march will be permitted by the taluk administration and maintaining peace and law and order during the march.

Sources told TNIE, on condition of anonymity, that the district administration would fix the dates for different organisations. Though RSS has shown its inclination to conduct the march on November 16 in Chittapur, the administration is not in favour of this date for the RSS or any organisation as many marriages are being held on that day, and allowing a route march might invite a law and order problem.

On October 24, the HC Bench had asked the RSS whether it was ready to conduct a route march on November 2 in Chittapur, and when RSS showed its readiness, the court directed it to submit a fresh application before the district administration. It asked the district administration to conduct a peace committee meeting on October 28, and present a report on October 30. The meeting could not come to a conclusion as 11 organisations submitted applications seeking permission to conduct a route march on the same day and time as the RSS. The administration submitted this before court, which asked the Advocate-General to chair a peace committee meeting in Bengaluru on November 5. As the AG did not mention the dates fixed for the march, the court asked the district administration to fix the dates and present a report on November 13.

PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT ROW

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING allegations of preferential treatment being provided to certain inmates at the Bengaluru Central Prison in Parappana Agrahara, the Electronics City Division Police visited the prison on Wednesday. On Tuesday, DCP (Electronics City Division) M Narayana, along with other officers, had conducted routine checks at the facility.

A senior police officer said that a team led by the Electronics City Sub-Division ACP, along with Parappana Agrahara police, on Wednesday, inspected the prison, but did not find any prohibited items during the routine check. The inspection follows viral videos showing preferential treatment to certain inmates.

The officer added that following court authorisation, four undertrial prisoners against whom a case has been registered for allegedly consuming alcohol and dancing inside the prison will be questioned, and further action will be taken based on the findings.

R Ashoka

BENGALURU: Slamming the Congress government for investigating how the video of jail inmates using mobile phones at Bangalore Central Jail was leaked, and not how they got the phones, Leader of Opposition R Ashoka on Wednesday said the government should lay more stress on the inmate who is a terror suspect. He said even after this incident, the government has not woken up. Home Minister Parameshwara has entrusted a special investigation team to check who leaked the video, instead of investigating whom the terror suspect was talking to. Just for the sake of some Muslim votes, the State government is putting the nation's safety at risk, he alleged. Hitting out at IT-BT Minister Priyank Kharge who accused Union Home Minister Amit Shah of failing to take responsibility for the Delhi blast, Ashoka said the Prime Minister has convened a series of meetings and will crack down on terror organisations. "When Mallikarjun Kharge was Home Minister, Dalits were burnt. They should first look at Kharge's failure and not speak about Amit Shah," he said. ENS

With child protection panels in limbo in 40% of GPs, child abuse & labour set to rise

ASHWINI M SRIPAD
@ Bengaluru

AT least 40 per cent of Gram Panchayats in the state do not have full-fledged Women and Child Protection Committees (WCC) and Education Task Forces. These committees are tasked with tracking child marriages, teen pregnancies, school dropouts, child labour and child abuse. With many of these committees not functioning, such cases are going unnoticed.

In Karnataka, there are nearly 6,000 Gram Panchayats. Each Panchayat caters to three or four villages. The Department of Women and Child Development Empowerment of Differently-Abled and Senior Citizens set up these committees in 2019 to address the increasing number of child marriages, child labour and school dropout cases.

Women and Child Protection Committee usually have 13 members, headed by Panchayat President. The committee also will have two women members of Panchayat, a woman schoolteacher, beat police officer, village accountant, NGO member, anganwadi worker, Self-Help Group member, two students and Panchayat Development member.

The Education Task force was set up in 2020 with 12 members, including Administrator of Gram Panchayat, Headmasters of primary, secondary and high schools that come under the panchayat limit. The Education Task Force is tasked with enrollment of children in schools.

KT Thippeswamy, Chairman of Karnataka State Commission for Child Rights, told TNIE that in 40 per cent of the panchayats either no committee has been formed, or in places where committees have been formed they are not functional, and members are not aware of their responsibilities.

Thippeswamy has written to Commissioner, Karnataka Panchayat Raj Commissionerate, highlighting the situation. The Commissioner has asked Chief Executive Officer of various Zilla Panchayats to streamline the operations of these committees.

Nagasimha Rao, a child rights activist, said that in many child pregnancy instances, the girls are treated as culprits rather than victims. "Instances such as child labour and teen pregnancy are going unreported. There is a need to bring awareness on these issues and that is where these committees play a major role. These committees should work in such a way that they bring these children to mainstream," he said.

The Lokayukta police have arrested three people for allegedly accepting a bribe of Rs 2 lakh to create and issue a pouthi katha (property ownership document). The accused are Chandregowda, Village Accountant of Chikkamudavadi Circle; Thangaraju, Revenue Inspector, Kasaba; and Umesh, Data Entry Operator attached to the office of the Revenue Inspector, Kanakapura taluk, Bengaluru South district

Woman says radiologist sexually assaulted her at Anekal scan centre

On her husband's advice, she filmed second scan, during which accused repeated the act

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE radiologist of a scanning centre in Anekal, on the city outskirts, is in trouble following a sexual assault complaint by a 34-year-old woman. The complainant has accused the radiologist of sexually harassing her when she had gone for scanning to Plasma Medinostics on Vidhata School Main Road in Anekal, around 3pm Monday.

The woman, a resident of Anekal on Hosur Road, filed the complaint against Jayakumar on Monday evening. The woman, a mother of three children, has stated that due to illness she had gone to the Government Hospital in Anekal with her husband on November 7. The doctor there asked her to get a scan done. On Monday, she went to Plasma Medinostics with her husband. The accused, after asking her to drink two glasses of water, reportedly started touching her private parts while scanning. He is alleged to have shouted at her when she questioned him, and also asked her to leave if she doubted him.

After coming out of the room, she brought the matter to her husband's notice. He asked her to film the radiologist during the second scan. She went inside again and reportedly switched on her mobile camera, and the accused allegedly touched her private parts again. The complainant stated that the accused threatened to kill her if she revealed it to anyone. After coming out of the room, the woman went to the police station and filed a complaint. There are allegations that the radiologist was brought to the station by the complainant's family, but the police allowed him to go without taking action, and Jayakumar escaped in his SUV. Following this, the family members staged a protest outside the station. A senior officer attached to Anekal police station said they are baseless and nobody protested outside the police station. " The radiologist is still at large and efforts are on to arrest him. If the accused was brought to the police station, how will he be let off in such a serious case," the officer asked. A case of sexual harassment, criminal intimidation and intentional insult with intent to provoke breach of peace has been registered against the radiologist.

BCA student, 35-year-old woman sexually harassed

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

IN separate incidents of sexual harassment and voyeurism, two women, including an 18-year-old BCA student, were sexually harassed in Girinagar and Indiranagar police limits.

An unidentified scooter-borne miscreant whistled at the BCA student at CMH Junction on 80 Feet Road in Indiranagar. When the victim warned him, the accused returned and made obscene gestures at her.

The student, a resident of Michael Palya, filed a complaint at the Indiranagar police station on Monday. She stated in her complaint that she is a private college student in Halasuru and was returning home when she was harassed between 2.50 pm and 3.30 pm.

The accused first whistled at her. When she warned him, the accused, who had left the spot, returned and started honking. When she looked back, the accused is said to have made obscene gestures at her. When she raised an alarm, he fled the spot. A case of sexual harassment has been registered against the unidentified accused.

In the Girinagar incident, a 35-year-old woman, resident of Dwarakanagar in Banashankari 3rd Stage, filed a complaint against a man for clicking pictures of women and girl students walking on the street. The victim, while she was on her way to Nayandahalli, had stopped on 100 Feet Road in Banashankari 3rd Stage to drink juice. She noticed that a man at a juice shop on the opposite side was taking photos of girls and women entering the juice centre. The incident occurred between 4.30 pm and 5 pm on November 6. "Passersby caught him red handed. After they questioned him, he confessed to taking photos of women and apologised. The accused identified as Satish, has been arrested. His mobile phone has been sent for analysis," said an officer.

Caught during rape bid, man beaten up, handed over to cops

Bengaluru: A 24-year-old man was caught and thrashed by the public after he tried to sexually assault a 21-year-old physically and mentally challenged woman at her house in LR Nagar. The accused, suspected to be under the influence of alcohol and some substance, entered the woman's house around 12.30 pm on Sunday. The accused, Vignesh alias Dhadu, lives five houses away from the victim's house. The woman's mother, who had gone for a wedding, returned home and saw the doors locked from inside, though she always locked them from outside whenever she went out. Suspecting foul play, she repeatedly knocked on the door. When no one opened it, she kicked it open and saw her daughter semi-nude. The accused, who was hiding behind the door, too was semi-nude. When she raised an alarm, he ran outside and jumped into an autorickshaw near his house. The neighbours tied his hands and legs with a plastic wire and assaulted him before handing him to the police. "He was drunk. He was hospitalised as he was badly beaten up with blunt weapons. After being treated, he was produced before a court which remanded him in judicial custody. The woman was not raped. The accused claims he mistook the woman's house as his own and went inside. The accused is unemployed and addicted to alcohol. He is not married," an officer said.

The deceased, identified as Deepak, hailed from Dehradun. His colleague Roshini from Pune is currently being treated at a hospital. Both were residents of Devanahalli. According to the police, the two had gone out for food and were heading home around 2.30 am when Deepak, who was riding the bike, lost control and fell on the pavement on the Windsor Manor service road. Both sustained injuries and were rushed to hospital. Deepak died around 5.30 am. The High Grounds traffic police have registered a case.

2 IISc staffers among three arrested for embezzling student travel funds

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICES
@ Bengaluru

SADASHIVANGAR police arrested three people, including two contract employees of Indian Institute of Science (IISc) for allegedly embezzling Rs 1.94 crore meant for student foreign travel grants. The accused are V Soundarya (25), a resident of Yeshwanthpur, and R Deepika (25), of Hesaraghatta — who were working as assistant clerks at the IISc Registrar's office. Police also arrested Deepika's boyfriend Sachin Rao (25), for allegedly aiding the fraud.

According to police, the accused created fake documents between June 2024 and October 2025 to siphon off funds. Using forged approval papers, they transferred the travel grant amounts of eligible students to bank accounts belonging to their relatives and close associates. The fraud came to light when IISc officials noticed an unusually high number of students were receiving travel grants, including some who had already graduated.

The Registrar, suspecting irregularities, ordered an internal audit. The inquiry revealed that Soundarya and Deepika had manipulated student records and added fake accounts to divert the money. The duo systematically created false travel-grant applications, combining the names of current and former students, and inserted the account numbers of their acquaintances. They even sanctioned a travel grant in the name of Deepika's boyfriend, Sachin Rao, the police said.

A senior police officer added that Deepika used part of the embezzled money to buy a plot of land in Sachin's name, gold ornaments and a car. Soundarya, too, purchased property and other valuables in her relatives' names. Both reportedly led a lavish life using the misappropriated funds. During investigation, police seized assets worth around Rs 1 crore, including two property documents worth Rs 80 lakh, Rs 15 lakh worth of gold ornaments, Rs 11 lakh in cash and a car, the officer said, adding that the two women were remanded in judicial custody and Rao in police custody.

HC lifts stay on Dharmasthala probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday vacated the stay granted to the investigation on the First Information Report (FIR) registered over the alleged mass burial of dead bodies in Dharmasthala of the Dakshina Kannada district.

The court vacated the interim order considering the startling revelations made by the Special Investigation Team (SIT) through the Special Public Prosecutor (SPP) B N Jagadeesha, who filed the statement of objections along with the statement given by the complainant-turned-accused, a former sanitary worker, before the Magistrate, to vacate the interim order.

After hearing the arguments of SIT and the counsel for the petitioners, Justice Mohammad Nawaz vacated the interim order of stay, which was passed on October 30. However, the court directed the SIT not to harass the petitioners, such as Girish Mattennavar, Mahesh Shetty, Jayanth T and Vittala Gowda, who are claimed to be social activists. They had questioned the registration of the FIR, which was registered in Belthangady and transferred to the SIT later, and also the notices issued to them by the SIT.

SPP Jagadeesha submitted that the impugned notices under section 35(3) of the BNSS have been issued after the complainant- turned-accused made explosive new revelations in his confession before the Magistrate under section 183 of the BNSS.

The SPP stated that in the Interlocutory application filed by Mattannavar, in a writ petition before the high court, on October 14, he made no allegations against the SIT and prayed for the investigations to continue. However, solely to gain the sympathy of this court, he now alleges that they have been interrogated for more than 100 hours, which is false. The notice was issued first on October 24 and a subsequent one on October 30.

He stated that the investigation revealed that the serious allegations made by the complainant were false. The details he disclosed do not relate to the facts found at the scene. Many aspects of the case under investigation are not at all related to the claims of illegal burials by the complainant. The recent discoveries of skulls and other human remains at the Bangle Gudda area by the SIT are an example of the same.

Therefore, when the complainant was further examined, he revealed, of his own free volition, that he had lodged the complaint and had made the statements as per the instructions and the active connivance of the petitioners, the SPP pleaded, while also pointing out that the investigation was launched at the instance of the petitioners, who are opposing the same.

'STATEMENT GIVEN UNDER DURESS'

SPP B N Jagadeesha, appearing for SIT, told the HC that the following points were elicited from the complainant-turned-accused on Aug 22 during probe

He stated that the skull he produced and presented on July 11, 2025, was not dug out by him from the ground, and that he had no knowledge regarding the place where the skull was obtained from.

He said a group of individuals misled him, and the skull was given to him by those individuals.

He expressed his willingness to tell the truth and stated that he would reveal who instigated and coerced him to make such false statements and who all were involved.

He stated that he filed the complaint at the Dharmasthala Police Station, under the threat, instigation, and direction of petitioners, namely Mahesh Shetty Timarodi, T. Jayanth, Girish Mattannavar and others.

He stated that he had given his earlier statement under Section 183 of the BNSS before the Magistrate under duress.

He stated that the skull and soil presented before the police on July 11, 2025, were not collected by him, but were provided by T Jayanth, and that he produced them before the police as per the directions and instructions of those individuals.

-He also stated that, as a part of the conspiracy hatched by Mahesh Shetty Timarodi and others, he committed the act of giving false complaints and statements about burying bodies in Dharmasthala.

What is enemy property

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AS per the Enemy Property Act 1968, enemy property means, "Property for the time being belonging to or held or managed on behalf of an enemy, an enemy subject or an enemy firm: Provided that where an individual enemy subject dies in the territories to which this Act extends, any property which immediately before his death, belonged to or was held by him or was managed on his behalf, may, notwithstanding his death continue to be regarded as enemy property..."

CCTV cameras needed at forest borders: Khandre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOREST, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar B Khandre on Wednesday directed forest department officials to install CCTV cameras along forest boundaries and maintain a digital database to monitor wildlife movement.

He instructed staff to keep a round-the-clock watch on the movement of wild animals, particularly tigers, and to regularly alert farmers and residents. The directions came during a closed-door review meeting convened in the wake of recent man-animal conflict incidents reported from the Mysuru forest division and areas surrounding Bandipur and Nagarahole Tiger Reserves.

Khandre said this measure would also help minimise crop loss. He further directed forest personnel to intensify foot patrolling and use thermal cameras to record wildlife activity.

The minister stressed the need to identify conflict-prone villages around the two tiger reserves and establish forest patrol camps about 5–6 km from the forest edge. Local residents, he said, should be deployed along with forest staff at these camps.

Khandre added that whenever incidents such as livestock attacks or sightings of injured tigers are reported, forest teams equipped with elephants should be dispatched immediately to capture the animal. Senior forest officers will be appointed as nodal officers at such locations to resolve man-animal conflict cases without delay.

Dial 1926 for emergencies

Khandre urged people to dial 1926 to report man-animal conflicts, wildlife sightings, or related issues. Complaint details will be forwarded immediately to jurisdictional officials for prompt action. The Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (PCCFs) and Additional PCCFs have been directed to review complaint status and ensure timely resolution, he added.

Kharge rejects exit poll claims on Bihar results

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ALL-India Congress Committee (AICC) president Mallikarjun Kharge on Wednesday rubbished the exit polls giving an edge to the NDA in Bihar. "Exit polls may not be encouraging for the Mahaghatbandhan. In Haryana, the exit polls favoured the Congress, but the BJP won. Let us wait for the actual results on November 14," Kharge told reporters.

Meanwhile, he said that the Opposition will raise the Delhi blast issue in the winter session of the Parliament that begins on December 1. "It is unfortunate that such an incident happened in Delhi, where top agencies that are tasked with ensuring security. The Union government has failed... The NIA is probing it. Let us see what information comes from it. The winter session will begin on December 1. Let us discuss it then," he said.

Guarantees making lives of farmers miserable: Pralhad

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

UNION Minister Pralhad Joshi has alleged that at a time when the Centre is taking proactive steps for farmers' welfare and long-term sustainability, the Karnataka government – in the name of funding its guarantee schemes – has made the lives of farmers difficult. Joshi wrote an open letter to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday.

In the letter, Joshi alleged that the CM has overlooked reforms undertaken by the Union government to protect sugarcane farmers' interests. He pointed out that fair and remunerative price (FRP) of Rs 355 per quintal for the 2025–26 season, at a 10.25 per cent recovery rate, has been fixed based on recommendations of the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices. This price provides a margin of over 105 per cent on the cost of production. "The FRP serves only as a minimum benchmark. States are free to declare a higher state advised price (SAP), but Karnataka has not declared it, leading to farmers' grievances," he said.

"It is wrong to say the Centre is evading the core issue. On the contrary, the Centre has ensured both price stability and market diversification, while local implementation such as payment enforcement, irrigation and subsidy delivery rests with the State government,'' he said.

Joshi said for funding various guarantee schemes, the government is financially squeezing the productive sectors of the economy. He said water supply and lifting charge of sugar factories has been increased from Rs 5 lakh to Rs 1 crore per year. An energy cess of 60paise per unit of electricity has been imposed. Fuel price hikes have also escalated transportation cost, he said.

Kerala informs Centre about freezing PM SHRI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

TWO weeks after the LDF decided to put on hold the implementation of the PM SHRI scheme following opposition from the CPI, the state government formally conveyed the same to the Centre, but not before a 'reminder' from the ally.

The government sent the letter after CPI ministers P Prasad and K Rajan met the chief minister on Wednesday. General education secretary K Vasuki sent the same after consultation with the Advocate General, the minister's office said. Recently, General Education Minister V Sivankutty had conveyed the government's stand on the issue to Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan.

The CPI had been unhappy over the delay in formally conveying the front's decision to the Centre. Speaking to reporters on Wednesday morning, CPI state secretary Binoy Viswam reminded the government about sending the letter.

"The LDF government will never be part of PM SHRI; it is a political decision taken by the front. The cabinet has agreed on it. The LDF and the government decided to send a letter conveying the decision to the Union government. If this does not happen, we will see," Binoy said.

After the minister informed that the letter had been sent, Binoy termed it a victory of LDF politics, and said the other moves related to the scheme will proceed accordingly.

"This is LDF's contribution to the student and teacher organisations protesting against the RSS agenda in the education sector," he said.

He also said only the media was doubtful whether the government will send the letter. "The CPI had no such doubts," he said.

The CPI had openly opposed the government's decision to sign an MoU with the Centre on implementing the PM SHRI in the state, following which it was decided that the initiative will be put on hold until a seven-member cabinet subcommittee chaired by Sivankutty reviews it and submits a report.

MODI TO UNVEIL 77-FT LORD RAMA STATUE AT PARTAGALI MATH IN GOA

Bengaluru: Prime Minister Narendra Modi will unveil a 77-foot bronze statue of Lord Shri Rama on November 28 at the Shree Samsthan Gokarn Partagali Jeevottam Math in Goa, as part of the 550th anniversary celebrations of the Math. Pradeep G Pai, Managing Director of Hangyo Ice Creams Private Limited, said the Sharda Panchashatamanotsava will be held from November 27 to December 7 at the Partagali Math to commemorate the occasion. The statue, constructed in Noida, will be unveiled alongside the inauguration of a Ramayana-themed park symbolising the ideals of Maryada Purushottam. Devotees attending the event will be provided with accommodation and food facilities. Annappa Kamath, Chairman of Millennium Estates, said that as part of the celebrations, the Sharda Panchashatakoti Shri Rama Nama Japa Abhiyan was launched, under which devotees, along with Parampujya Swamiji, have been chanting the Rama Taraka Mantra 550 crore times over 550 days.

TDB ex-president fails to appear before SIT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

AFTER the arrest of former Travancore Devaswom Board (TDB) president N Vasu in the Sabarimala gold theft case, all eyes are now on another ex-TDB president, A Padmakumar, whom the Special Investigation Team (SIT) had summoned for questioning on Wednesday.

Though Padmakumar did not turn up for questioning citing personal reasons, the sources said the writing on the wall was clear for the former Konni MLA, who had fell out of favour with the CPM leadership after publicly airing his displeasure in being not included in the party state committee.

Nevertheless, if the SIT enforces his arrest, it would be a double whammy for the CPM that's bracing for the upcoming local body polls. Still smarting at the arrest of Vasu, the CPM would be further pushed into a sticky wicket as the UDF and BJP have already began taking potshots at the party leadership and CM Pinarayi Vijayan for their alleged proximity with the accused.

Though there is no official word from SIT on when Padmakumar will appear for questioning, sources said it would happen this week itself. Vasu, who has close ties with the ruling party leadership, was arrested in connection with the theft of gold from the door frame of the Sabarimala sreekovil.

The charge against Vasu was that it was on his directive the gold-plated copper sheets were recorded as mere copper plates in official documents.

'We requested officials to release salaries'

THEIR salaries range from Rs 10,000 to Rs 45,000. One of the staff members TNIE spoke to said he has no money to pay the bus fare to reach the village to attend to his work. Others complained that they are struggling to pay school fees and maintain their families.

An employee said, "We requested the officials concerned to release our salaries, but they said it was because of technical issues in mapping our payment system with K2 software." An official from the Gadag zilla panchayat said, "We have sorted out all technical glitches, but now funds have not been released by the Central government."

Museum display highlights how to identify real silk

"WE aim to start work on the ground from the coming financial year and complete it in two years. Here old collections will be showcased. Details of the importance of the silk mark and how to identify original and fake silk will also be explained. Experts and farmers are being roped in for the project. The project is promoted by the Ministry of Tourism," said CSB member Sivakumar Periyasamy.

The museum will also feature a dedicated section showcasing silk byproducts. There is a rise in the global market for silk protein and other products used in the cosmetics and pharmacy. This trend will also be demonstrated to people visiting the museum, he said. According to the Seri-States of India 2024, Karnataka contributes around 32% of the country's silk production. There are 11,526 sericulture villages, housing 1,48,704 sericulture farmers and 6,749 reelers.

Sericulture was introduced in the region and encouraged during Tipu Sultan's era. The primary cocoon production regions include Chikkballapura, Kolar, Ramanagara, Mandya, Mysuru, Chamarajanagar and Bengaluru Rural. Later it is expanded to multiple places. The report also stated that Karnataka produced 12,463 tonnes of silk in 2023–24, which included 2,806 tonnes of Bivoltine silk and 9,657 tonnes of crossbreed silk.

'CCTV footage inside the bank gutted'

"THE entire CCTV footage inside the bank has been gutted. Computers and documents too have been destroyed. But we have some CCTV footage from outside where we can see a masked man -- possibly one of the miscreants. Our investigation is on," Geetha Patil said.

Sirsi DySP Geetha Patil and Yellapur Police Inspector Ramesh Hanapur visited the spot and started the investigation based on a complaint filed by a bank official. "We are trying to figure out whether miscreants are from within the state or outside. Despite all their attempt, they could not open the strongroom," an official said.

BIHAR MAN ARRESTED FOR HACKING ACTOR PRIYANKA'S PHONE

Bengaluru: The Bengaluru police have arrested a 25-year-old man for allegedly hacking the mobile phone of Priyanka, Kannada actor and producer Upendra's wife, and siphoning off over Rs 1.6 lakh from several people. Bengaluru City Police Commissioner Seemant Kumar Singh said that timely reporting of such cyber frauds within the "golden hours" aids in detection. "In this case, over Rs 1.5 lakh was lost. One accused has been arrested, and we suspect the involvement of others," he said, urging the public to report such incidents immediately. According to a senior cop, the accused, Vikas Kumar, a B.Com graduate and a native of Bihar, was arrested on November 6 in Delhi after police traced his digital trail. Priyanka filed a complaint on September 15 after her mobile phone was hacked. She clicked on a suspicious link sent via WhatsApp, supposedly related to an online order. The hacker then requested an OTP and messaged several of her contacts, claiming an emergency and asking for money. She realised her phone had been compromised when she was unable to make calls. Before the incident, the phones of her husband, manager, and close associates had also been compromised. ENS

B'LURU MAN SCOURS KOCHI FOR MISSING FATHER

Kochi: Santon Lama, son of Suraj Lama (59)— a Bengaluru resident who went missing in Kochi after being deported from Kuwait— begins each day with the same routine - combing through every shortcut, bypass, and street across Ernakulam district in search of his father. "On Tuesday, I got a call from Perumbavoor about a possible clue. I rushed there and searched till morning — but it ended in vain," said Santon. The senior Lama had worked in Kuwait for nearly 30 years, running his own restaurant. He was deported to Kochi on October 5 after reportedly suffering memory loss caused by 'methanol poisoning.' He lost all memory. "My wish is to find my father and reunite him with my mother in Bengaluru, who now lives a life drained of hope. It could be a duty of a son in his entire life," Sunny told TNIE. ENS

DIRECT CASH TRANSFER SCHEMES FOR WOMEN ARE A LIBERATING FORCE

THE disbursal of ₹10,000 as the first instalment of a ₹2-lakh bonanza announced for women by the Nitish Kumar-led Bihar government has raised eyebrows. Though the timing of the announcement brought up rightful questions about vote-bank politics, Bihar is not the first state to announce direct money transfers for women before an election. All major parties have resorted to similar schemes in the name of facilitating self-employment. In neighbouring Jharkhand, the JMM-Congress alliance introduced a similar unconditional scheme to transfer ₹2,500 a month just before the assembly election last year. Ditto for Maharashtra, where the BJP-led alliance timed the announcement of the ₹1,500-a-month Majhi Ladki Bahin Yojana with the 2024 state polls.

Such schemes have indeed caught a political tailwind in recent years. A new report by PRS Legislative Research shows that as many as 12 states will collectively spend a whopping ₹1.68 lakh crore on unconditional cash transfers to women in 2025-26—up from just two states implementing such programmes three years ago. The Supreme Court has expressed concerns over the timing of such schemes.

It's also true that these schemes put enormous pressure on the state coffers. The PRS report points out that of the dozen states with such transfer schemes, six have projected revenue deficits this financial year. There is no doubt these schemes must be run prudently and be delinked from elections. However, in the long run, unconditional cash transfers have a huge liberating impact on women, who continue to face patriarchy and oppression. The International Labour Organization has highlighted that women worldwide continue to earn a fifth less than men on average for the same jobs—all while performing three-quarters of unpaid care work, too. Many studies have shown cash transfers improve households' nutritional security, enhance empowerment, increase voter turnouts, and reduce dependence on usurious moneylenders. Thus the schemes must be supported one way or another. One way to take off the political edge that devolves on parties announcing such schemes could be for them to morph into a universal basic income aimed at half the population in all states. For that, new fiscal calculations will surely have to be drawn up.

VOTE ON CLIMATE ACTION BEST WAY TO CLEAR SMOG

FOR the first time in India, hundreds of citizens gathered on Sunday to protest the national capital's dangerously polluted air. It followed weeks when the lung-clogging particulate matter hovering over Delhi reached levels 20–30 times higher than the World Health Organization's safe limit. The smog thickened after the protest. On Tuesday, it was declared 'severe'—the most alarming of the six categories recognised by the Central Pollution Control Board. The next day, Delhi and three nearby towns were the only four among 249 urban centres where every monitor continued to flash red. Under the emergency measures in place since 2020, schools have switched to hybrid classes, vehicle use has been restricted, and non-essential construction suspended.

A decade ago, the horizon had looked brighter. India had negotiated the hard-wrought Paris Agreement to cap emissions, announced the Solar Alliance, and set ambitious clean-energy targets. Yet, action since then has not matched the ambition. This year, India's total renewable capacity touched 220.1 gigawatts—commendable progress in drawing half its power from non-fossil sources. But consider this: China added 277 GW of solar capacity in 2024 alone. On the other side of the planet, delegates at COP30 in Brazil's Belém were reminded of the scale of the crisis when torrential rains flooded the very venue of the climate summit.

Meanwhile, in Delhi, the state pollution control committee's X handle retweeted recent Air Quality Index readings when the city was merely 'very poor'—on a scale artificially capped at 500, rendering the numbers globally incomparable. It is impossible to glimpse a clearer future through the opacity of an official machinery that seems to have given up, content to pull levers of a clearly inadequate control system.

On Sunday, it was heartening to see that most of the protestors were young—as if pointing an accusatory finger at the indifference of older generations who have clouded their future. Weighing votes by climate action may be the most effective way to clear the smog of incompetence. If it draws more young voters to the booth, the politics of some of the world's most polluted cities could finally begin to change.

QUICK TAKE

AN ETHICAL TEST

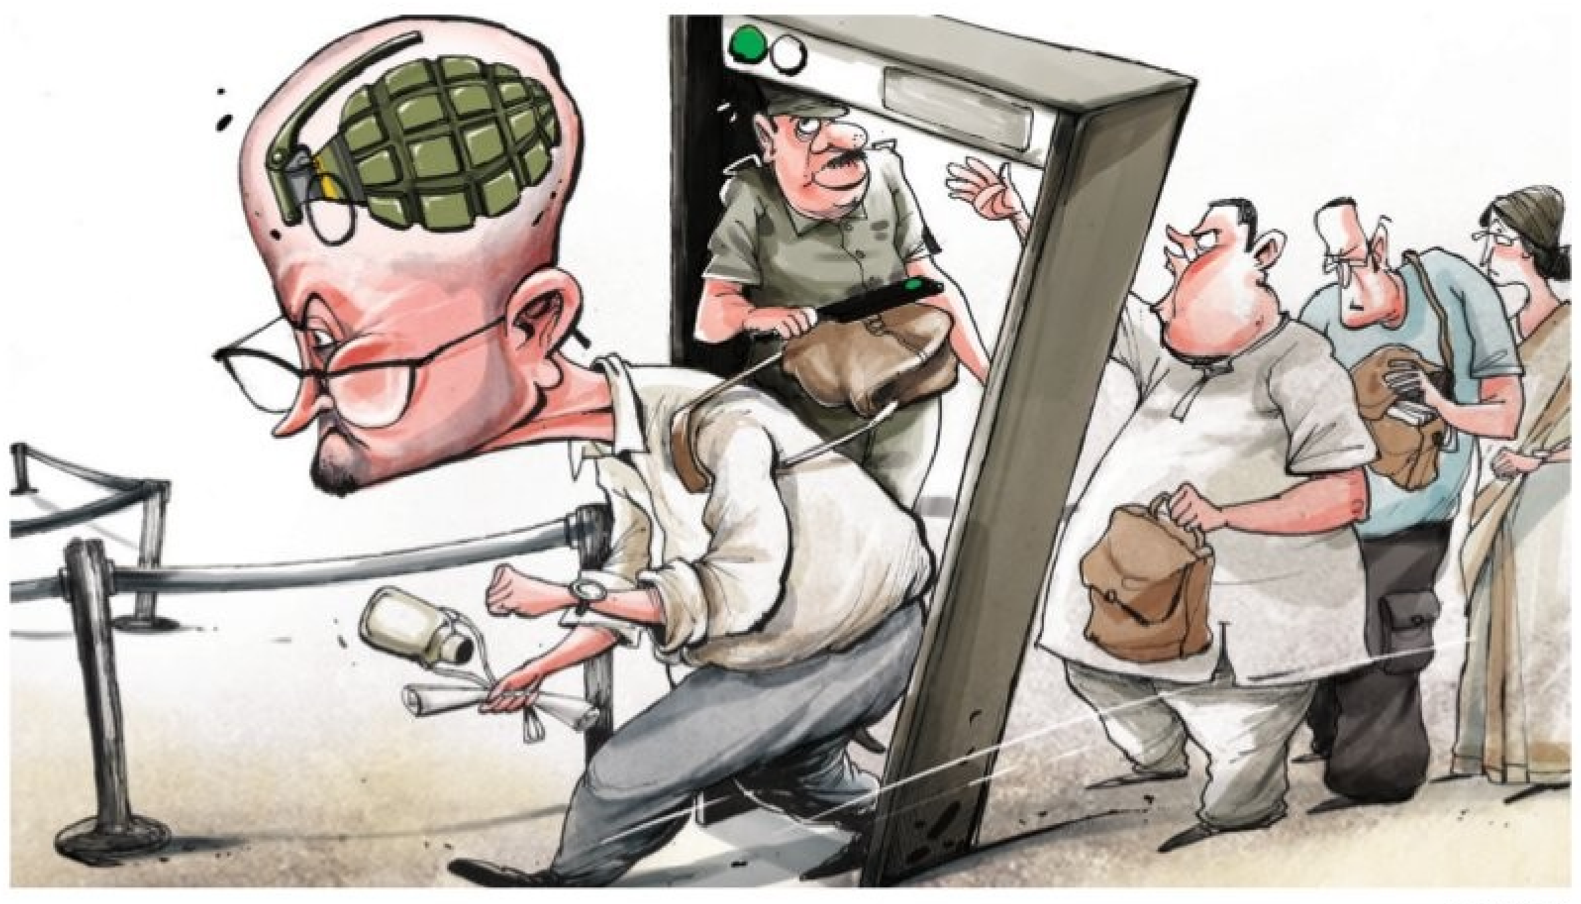
IT'S an Andrew moment for Trump. Messages released by Democratic lawmakers on Wednesday show that the US president not only knew convicted child trafficker Jeffrey Epstein well, but that he had spent considerable time with one of his victims too. For Andrew, it took years for the British establishment to move from revelation to the action of stripping him of public roles. Now, this will be the biggest litmus test facing the US Congress, which is set to reopen soon. If the revelations are extended, there are likely to be tolls on the other side of the aisle too. It will put to rest years of speculation and give standup comedians months of talking points. But first, it will be a test of political ethics.

The spread of extremist ideology through urban echo chambers doesn't need instigation from across the border. Inclusion, dialogue and community engagement are as important as curbing infiltration

BEYOND THE BLAST: THE URBAN FACE OF EXTREMISM

LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)

Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps; Chancellor, Central University of Kashmir



SOURAV ROY

FOR nearly a decade and a half, India's cities have felt secure—calm streets, crowded metros, and a quiet faith in the invisible shield of our intelligence and police networks. The explosion outside Red Fort metro station in New Delhi will shake that sense of safety. Whether it was an intended terror act or an accidental detonation, the intent behind it was unmistakable—to harm Indians, and thereby, India's confidence.

The incident must not be viewed merely as an isolated tragedy, but as a symptom of a deeper malaise. It signals the quiet resurgence of ideological extremism in India's urban underbelly—a phenomenon that has long simmered beneath the surface, particularly in parts of Jammu and Kashmir, but has now seeped into the social fabric of several metropolitan centres. No longer limited to remote valleys or border districts, it is travelling through cities, universities, prayer groups, and online echo chambers.

The unchecked spread of extremist ideology is today the most dangerous multiplier of terrorism. While our security forces and intelligence agencies have done exemplary work in shrinking the number of active terrorists in J&K and in curbing infiltration from across the Line of Control, radicalism has not been subdued. It doesn't manifest daily, yet it builds the invisible scaffolding on which terror networks stand—those of sympathisers, financiers, propagandists and facilitators who blur the line between faith and fanaticism.

The difficulty is conceptual as much as operational. Around the world, nations have struggled to draw the line between religiosity and radicalism. Deradicalisation programmes, from Europe to Southeast Asia, show uneven results because the process requires theological engagement, psychological counselling, and community partnership. India faces this challenge acutely because its diversity makes any single approach inadequate.

Over the past 15 years, India's intelligence and police services have kept terror geographically confined to J&K. Their record in preventing large-scale attacks in urban India is outstanding. Yet, sleeper cells have quietly rebuilt themselves in the shadows—from Bengaluru and Hyderabad to Lucknow and Delhi. These are not the crude, cell-phone-wielding modules of the past; they are educated, white-collared, networked, ideologically-wired, and often hidden behind respectable professional identities. That a group of doctors could turn radical despite their education in India's premier institutions reveals the scale and subtlety of the challenge.

The radicalisation of professionals is not new. In the Islamic State's early years, engineers, medics and graduates from Europe and West Asia joined its ranks in what analysts called 'nihilistic seduction'—a search for purpose through destruction. India was largely spared that wave; only a few Indians travelled to Syria or Iraq, reaffirming our social cohesion. But that belief is shaken when a qualified Delhi doctor, reportedly with extremist leanings, drives into a crowded road junction with explosives. Even if intent is unclear, the pattern is deeply unsettling.

The challenge lies not only in ideology but in ecosystems. Terrorism endures through networks of finance, narcotics, media and over-ground workers. India has curbed many of these—the National Investigation Agency's crackdown on funding and crossborder flows has choked resources. Yet, ideological networks of preachers and influencers remain a grey zone, operating within the thin legality of religious expression and using sermons and social media to quietly shape vulnerable minds.

Some of these networks have found new soil in India's cities, where anonymity and mobility allow radical ideas to thrive unnoticed. This is where the danger multiplies. Urban radicalisation does not require direct instruction from across the border; it grows locally, often through grievance narratives amplified online. The convergence of faith-based grievance, political polarisation, and online propaganda makes deradicalisation extraordinarily complex.

We must also acknowledge the changing demographic of extremist sympathisers. They are younger, better educated, and more connected to global currents of resentment. In Kashmir, years of exposure to both conflict and counter-insurgency have hardened perspectives. Yet, in cities outside the valley, radicalisation stems less from personal experience of conflict and more from digital proximity—the consumption of global Islamist content that repackages victimhood as virtue.

In this context, India's success in operational counter-terrorism—the neutralisation of thousands of terrorists, the containment of infiltration, the establishment of a robust grid—cannot automatically translate into success against radicalism. Bullets and barricades cannot penetrate ideas. This calls for a dual approach: technology to monitor and pre-empt, and community engagement to heal and persuade. The role of the moderate and nationalist clergy is invaluable in this.

The experience of nations such as Singapore offers useful lessons. There, a network of moderate clerics and community leaders has been mobilised to interpret Islamic teachings within a modern, plural framework, providing credible alternatives to extremist narratives. India, with its vast and diverse Muslim population, must craft its own model—one that draws upon the wisdom of friendly and patriotic religious scholars who can bridge the divide between faith and state. Such engagement cannot be cosmetic; it must be structured, resourced and sustained.

A worrying trend is the possible return of suicide terrorism to India's discourse. While 'fedayeen' gun attacks have occurred in J&K since the 1990s, true suicide bombings—where the body becomes the weapon—have been rare and alien to India's psyche. Pakistan's tribal belt and Afghanistan normalised them, but if the Red Fort blast involved self-sacrifice, it marks a psychological shift. Cultivated through ideological grooming that glorifies death, such acts demand introspection. Technology can detect explosives, but only social resilience and understanding—through research, digital literacy and inclusive dialogue—can truly immunise minds against extremism. The lesson is simple but urgent; terror feeds on exclusion. The answer to its appeal lies in inclusion, dialogue, and opportunity. No community should feel targeted; no faith should feel besieged. India's pluralism is its ultimate shield.

Urban India today stands at an inflection point. The security grid that has protected it for fifteen years will need augmentation with psychological insight and social intelligence. Technology can disrupt a plot, but only empathy can prevent one. As Delhi recovers from its night of fear, it must remind the nation that vigilance is not the task of the government alone—it is the collective duty of society.

WHEN THE SKY RAINS FIRE

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

IN Sky Alert! What Happens When Satellites Fail (2013), Les Johnson had written about satellites being brought down by orbital debris, solar storms and war. In his 2021 novel Out of Sight, Martin Granger wrote about rogue orbital junk colliding with geosynchronous satellites—such as the GPS network that orbits at about 20,000 km—and sending them crashing down to Earth. Both the nonfiction and fictional prognoses were brutal: in the collision chain reaction, GPS would be disabled, resource and environmental monitoring lost, flights would crash, spysats and military recon would die, and satellite telescopes blinded.

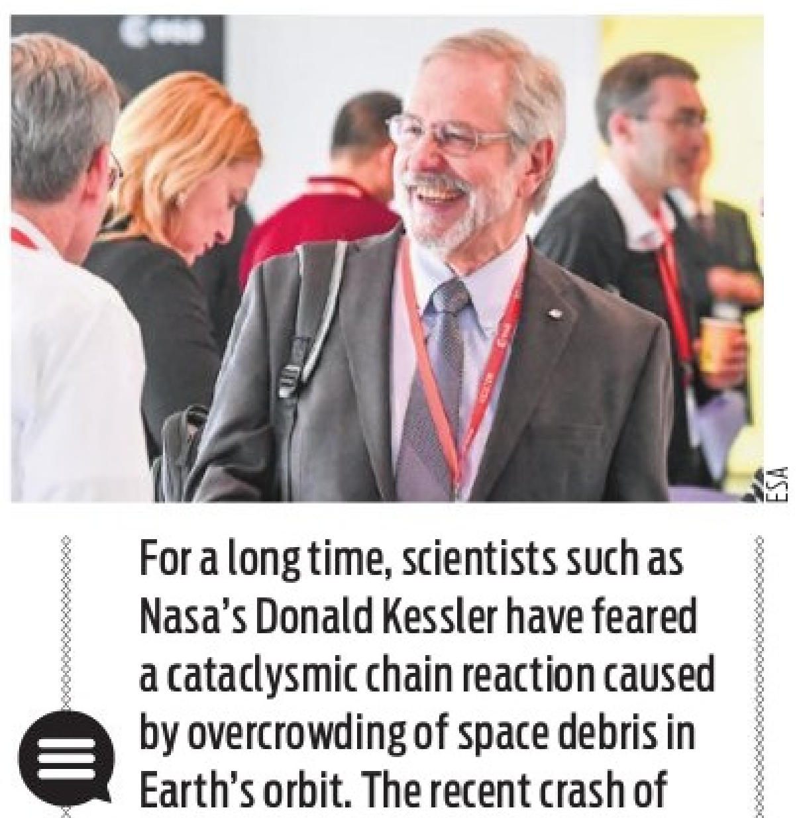
The domain of science fiction and somewhat outré intellectual maundering a quarter-century ago, no longer is a cascading satellite-collision event considered improbable. In the third week of October, a piece of smoking space junk landed in the desert on an access road to a mine in the Pilbara region of Western Australia, and reignited slow-burn concerns that the Kessler Syndrome, which all space scientists fear, had become not an 'if', but a 'when'.

It is a near-mantra in catastrophology that there is a wait period of roughly half-a-century before theory becomes fact. Nasa scientists Donald Kessler and Burton Cour-Palais proposed the Kessler Syndrome theory in 1978: that overcrowding in low Earth orbit—800-2,000 km in space, where most satellites are parked—could start a domino effect of collisions with cataclysmic impacts. In a sense, it is time for the theory to show its teeth. And it has.

As of 2022, there were an estimated 15,100 metric tonnes of space debris shooting round Earth—54,000 pieces 10 cm in length and longer (about 9,300 of them with active payloads), 1.2 million 1-10 cm in size, and more than 140 million from 1 mm to 1 cm. The ones less than a centimetre were considered technically impossible to track—until the Pilbara piece crashlanded. It was 150 cm in diameter, and should have been visible, but wasn't.

The space archaeologist Alice Gorman, author of the 2019 book Dr Space Junk vs the Universe said, "There was no indication it was going to re-enter right now so people weren't expecting it—when I went to look for re-entry predictions I couldn't find anything, which is an indication of the suddenness of it."

According to the US Aerospace Corporation, a space object catalogue or satellite catalogue is maintained by Joint Combined Space Operations Center (CSpOC) at Vandenberg Air Force Base, part of the US Strategic Command. One of CSpOC's missions is to detect, track, and identify all objects in Earth orbit in addition to monitoring the International Space Station and other Nasa satellites for collisions.



ESA

For a long time, scientists such as Nasa's Donald Kessler have feared a cataclysmic chain reaction caused by overcrowding of space debris in Earth's orbit. The recent crash of smoking satellite junk in Western Australia might just be an early warning of what's to come

Also located at Vandenberg Air Force Base is the US Air Force's 18th Space Control Squadron, which operates the Space Surveillance Network, which oversees radar and optical sensors at various sites around the world. These sensors observe and track objects that are larger than a softball in low Earth orbit (LEO) and basketball-sized objects or larger, in higher, geosynchronous orbits. The sensors can determine which orbit the objects are in, and that information is used to predict close approaches, reentries and the probability of a collision."

In the event, CSpOC missed the Pilbara spacejunk altogether, raising questions about not only the efficacy of its panoptical claims but also about whether it is possible to track space debris individually in a sky full of them like confetti. The Aerospace Corporation says that the "US military is currently tracking about 20,000 objects and has cataloged more than 40,000 objects over the years". This means that the US military is currently tracking 0.014 percent of space debris, most but hardly all too tiny to be tracked. It's like playing catch while blindfolded. The European Space Agency's Space Environment Report 2025 says that "intact satellites or rocket bodies are now re-entering the Earth atmosphere on average more than three times a day".

Tipping Points of Space Debris in Low Earth Orbit, a paper published in the International Journal of the Commons in January 2024, says, "Over the past decade, the annual number of recorded re-entries has dramatically increased, averaging around 300 yearly re-entries from 2012 to 2019 and then growing to nearly 2000 yearly re-entries in 2021 to 2023."

Gorman speculated that the Pilbara spacejunk could be the end-stage from a Chinese Jielong-3 rocket launched in late September. A paper presented at the International Astronautical Congress in Sydney in early October states that 88 percent of "the 50 most concerning pieces of space junk in low Earth orbit" were rocket bodies. But while the origin of the debris remains speculation—an investigation by the Australian Space Agency could take months—the Chinese National Space Agency reached out to Nasa "over a manoeuvre to prevent a possible collision between satellites".

'Nearspace' has, according to the Space Debris User Portal, about 15,860 satellites, 12,900 of them functioning as of October 21. At the current rate of rocket launches—258 in 2024 (the maximum in any year since the first launch in 1957), with the US leading with 145 launches—the end of this decade could see about 70,000 active satellites at altitudes below 2,000 km.

"If space debris is not stabilised in the relative near-term," says the IJC paper, "any deferred efforts to clean LEO or reduce active missions will only grant a few additional decades."

Imagine the sky afire with raining debris. (Views are personal)

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar met Canadian Foreign Minister Anita Anand on the sidelines of the G7 Foreign Ministers' Meeting in Niagara, marking yet another high-level political contact between New Delhi and Ottawa as they steady the relationship. The two ministers reviewed the ongoing law-enforcement dialogue and discussed progress under the Canada–India Joint Roadmap, a framework for cooperation that both sides have sought to revive amid cautious efforts to normalise ties.

The roadmap, according to a statement from Canada's Ministry of Foreign Affairs, outlines plans to deepen collaboration in areas such as energy, trade, and people-to-people engagement. Jaishankar is in Canada from November 11 to 13 at Anand's invitation to participate in the G7 Foreign Ministers' Meeting with Outreach Partners a forum that includes Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the UK, the US, and the EU, along with partner countries India, Australia, Brazil, Saudi Arabia, Mexico, South Korea, South Africa, and Ukraine.

Plans afoot to deepen energy collaborations

The Canada-India Joint Roadmap, according to a statement from Canada's Ministry of Foreign Affairs, outlines plans to deepen collaboration in areas such as energy, trade, and people-to-people engagement. Jaishankar is in Canada from November 11 to 13 at Anand's invitation to participate in the G7 Foreign Ministers' Meeting with Outreach Partners.

The meeting between the two foreign ministers takes place both sides signal intent to rebuild trust after a turbulent phase triggered by political tensions and allegations that strained bilateral communication channels. Sources said the recent engagements between the two sides have been forward-looking, focusing on restoring institutional cooperation and reinforcing the strategic, economic, and cultural linkages that have long underpinned the relationship.

Adding momentum to this diplomatic thaw, Canada's International Trade Minister Maninder Sidhu travels to India from November 12 to 14 to strengthen trade and investment engagement. Sidhu is expected to hold a series of meetings in New Delhi and later visit Visakhapatnam to attend the Confederation of Indian Industry's Partnership Summit on November 14. "This visit to India will reinforce Canada's commitment to diversifying our trade relationships and attracting new investment," Sidhu said in a statement. "As one of the fastest-growing major economies, India offers significant opportunities for Canadian businesses and workers."

Sidhu's agenda focuses on advancing cooperation in emerging sectors, particularly artificial intelligence, clean technology, and digital industries, and identifying new partnership opportunities that can support job creation and innovation in both economies.

Two-way trade between India and Canada stood at $30.9 billion in 2024, and both sides see potential for rapid growth. Sidhu said greater cooperation in energy, agriculture, AI, and technology could unlock "new commercial opportunities" while building more resilient and secure supply chains — a shared strategic objective amid shifting global trade dynamics.

Amid Trump tariff, Navy Chief to meet US Dept of War head

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

CHIEF of the Naval Staff Admiral Dinesh K Tripathi on Wednesday embarked on a six-day official visit to the United States, amid the ongoing tariff tussle. According to a statement from the Ministry of Defence (MoD), "The visit aims to further strengthen the robust and enduring maritime partnership between the Indian Navy and the United States Navy, a key pillar of the India-US Defence Partnership."

During the visit, the CNS is scheduled to hold discussions with senior officials of the US Department of War. He will also meet Admiral (Adm) Samuel J. Paparo, Commander, United States Indo-Pacific Command, and Adm Stephen T Koehler, Commander, United States Pacific Fleet, besides other senior naval leaders and dignitaries.

"These interactions will provide an opportunity to review ongoing maritime cooperation, enhance operational-level linkages, and strengthen mechanisms for information sharing and maritime domain awareness between the two navies," the statement read.

Admiral Tripathi will also engage with key naval institutions and operational commands of the US Navy. Discussions are expected to focus on shared maritime priorities in the Indo-Pacific, collaboration within multilateral frameworks such as, MILAN, and the Combined Maritime Forces (CMF) initiatives, the MoD said. India and the United States share a long-standing maritime partnership rooted in mutual trust, and shared values.

"The visit by CNS underscores the Indian Navy's commitment to deepening cooperation with the US Navy towards realising the vision of a free, open, inclusive, and rules-based Indo-Pacific", the statement read.

As reported earlier by this newspaper, India and the US continued with their scheduled exercise Yudh Abhyas- 2025 in September. The Navies of India and US also conducted a Passage Exercise (PASSEX) the same month.

The Indian Navy's warship INS Imphal, an indigenous guided-missile destroyer, mission deployed in the Arabian Sea, participated in a Passage Exercise (PASSEX) with the US Navy's Arleigh-Burke-class guided-missile destroyer USS Gridley (DDG 101) on September 29.

CNS to also meet operational commands of US Navy

During the visit, the CNS will also meet Admiral (Adm) Samuel J Paparo, Commander, US Indo-Pacific Command, and Adm Stephen T Koehler, Commander, US Pacific Fleet, besides other senior naval leadership and dignitaries. Admiral Tripathi will also engage with key naval institutions and operational commands of the US Navy. Discussions are expected to focus on shared maritime priorities.

Additional charge for RAW chief Parag Jain in cabinet secretariat

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

AT a time when the government and the agencies are grappling with Delhi car blast, the government on Wednesday issued an order giving additional charge of the Secretary (Security) in the Cabinet Secretariat to 1989-batch Indian Police Service (IPS) officer of Punjab cadre Parag Jain, who is currently holding the post of Secretary, Research & Analysis Wing (R&AW).

In the order issued by the Department of Personnel & Training (DoPT) it is said, "The Competent Authority has approved assignment of additional charge of the post of Secretary (Security), Cabinet Secretariat to Shri Parag Jain, IPS (PB:89), Secretary, Research & Analysis Wing (R&AW) under Cabinet Secretariat with immediate effect and till the appointment of a regular incumbent or until further orders, whichever is earlier."

Jain is a seasoned intelligence officer, who is credited with masterminding the high-stakes Operation Sindoor by proving human and technical intelligence. The Appointments Committee of the Cabinet (ACC) had appointed Jain as the R&AW chief in July this year and had replaced Ravi Sinha after his retirement. He is widely regarded as an expert in both human and technical intelligence.

Before being appointed as the R&AW chief, Jain headed the Aviation Research Centre (ARC), an elite wing known for its work in aerial surveillance, SIGINT (signals intelligence), PHOTINT (photo reconnaissance), IMINT (imagery intelligence), and border monitoring.

His operational depth and leadership were most seen in the planning and intelligence behind Operation Sindoor, which targeted nine terror camps in Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK).

Many in the national security set-up say that the missile strikes "were guided by pinpointed intelligence gathered by a team led by Jain". His command over HUMINT and TECHINT integration was instrumental in enabling the armed forces to carry out strikes across the Line of Control.

Jain's operational experience in Kashmir makes him an ideal fit to deal with Pakistan's attempts to revive cross-border terror infrastructure. His involvement during the 2019 reorganisation of Jammu and Kashmir was significant.

Apart from domestic intelligence, Jain has served at Indian missions abroad including in Sri Lanka and Canada. In Canada, he monitored the activities of Khalistani terror modules operating from foreign soil.

Headed many intel wings

Jain has also headed the Aviation Research Centre (ARC), an elite wing known for its work in aerial surveillance, SIGINT (signals intelligence), PHOTINT (photo reconnaissance), IMINT (imagery intelligence), and border monitoring.

3 more exit polls predict NDA Bihar sweep...

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THREE fresh exit polls on Wednesday predicted an NDA victory in Bihar, with Axis My India showing a close fight for the ruling alliance and Today's Chanakya forecasting a big win for it over the Mahagathbandhan. The Axis My India Exit Poll predicted that the NDA would be ahead of the Mahagathbandhan in Bihar, but the RJD would emerge as the single-largest party when results for the Assembly polls are announced on Friday.

The projections come a day after all major exit polls predicted a return of the NDA government in Bihar with a big victory over the Mahagathbandhan. All exit polls have unanimously forecast a poor electoral debut for Prashant Kishor's Jan Suraaj. Axis My India predicted the NDA to win between 121-141 seats, and the Mahagathbandhan 98-118 seats. It gave 0-2 seats to the Jan Suraaj.

Today's Chanakya predicted that while the BJP and its allies would get 160 seats (with a plus-minus margin of error of 12 seats), the RJD and its allies would bag 77 seats (with a plus-minus margin of error of 12 seats). The pollster suggested that the BJP and its allies would bag 44% (plus-minus 3%) vote share and the RJD and its allies would get 38% (plus-minus 3%) votes.The majority mark in the 243-member Assembly is 122.

In its party-wise break-up, Axis My India predicted that the RJD would be the single-largest party getting between 67 and 76 seats, followed by the JD(U) with 56-62 seats, BJP 50-56 seats, Congress 17-21 seats, Vikassheel Insaan Party 3-5 seats, and Left parties 10-14 seats.

According to the exit poll, the NDA would get a vote share percentage of 43%, Mahagathbandhan 41%, and the Jan Suraaj 4%. It also claimed that while 34% of people want to see RJD's Tejashwi Yadav as the Chief Minister, 22% want incumbent Nitish Kumar (JD-U) to remain at the helm.

The exit poll also gave a gender-wise breakdown of vote share. It is projected that while the NDA would get 41% male and 45% female votes, the Mahagathbandhan would get 42% male and 40% female votes.

The third pollster, Kamakhya Strategies gave NDA 167-187 seats, while the Grand alliance was predicted to win 54-74 seats. The Bihar polls were conducted in two phases on November 6 and 11, and the results will be announced on November 14.

While the NDA, comprising the BJP, JD(U) and LJP (Ram Vilas) as the major alliance partners, is looking to return to power in Bihar, the opposition INDIA bloc, which has the RJD, the Congress and the Left parties as the main constituents, is looking to form the government with RJD's Tejashwi Yadav its chief ministerial face.

...Tejashwi says will take oath as CM on Nov 18

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

RASHTRIYA Janata Dal (RJD) leader and INDIA bloc's chief ministerial face Tejashwi Prasad Yadav on Wednesday claimed that he would take office as chief minister on November 18 and also dismissed the exit polls – most of which have predicted return of NDA to power in the state.

Tejashwi told media persons that exit poll predictions were streaming in when people were casting their votes during the second phase of the assembly polls on Tuesday. He claimed that it clearly demonstrated that there was an intention to put psychological pressure on officials, apprehending slow counting of votes too. Poll results will be declared on November 14.

RJD leader said that the situation in Bihar is like that of 1995. "The atmosphere is Bihar like 1995, this time change is certain," he said, adding that the party received encouraging feedback from the ground.

Centre asks states to set up chest clinics in govt hosps

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

AMID deteriorating air quality, especially in Delhi and its neighbouring states, the Centre on Wednesday issued an updated advisory to all states and mandated chest clinics to be set up in all government hospitals.

The new advisory by the Union Health Ministry also said that high-risk groups, such as pregnant women, young children, and the elderly, should restrict outdoor movements as much as possible.

Stressing the need to avoid burning any form of wood, leaves, crop residues, or waste in open environments, it said that people should practice wet mopping instead of sweeping or vacuuming inside homes to reduce exposure to air pollution and avoid firecrackers.

On days of poor to severe-plus air pollution — what Delhi and its neighbouring states are currently witnessing — the advisory said people with chronic cardio-pulmonary disease should avoid strenuous activity.

Prepared under the National Programme on Climate Change and Human Health (NPCCHH), the advisory mandates that all states establish chest clinics at Community Health Centres, Sub-District Hospitals, District Hospitals, and Medical Colleges in urban areas.

"During the peak air pollution months (September-March), the clinics are expected to function for a fixed duration of at least two hours daily," said the advisory.

The advisory said that the staff nurse posted in the clinic would also be responsible for screening patients to assess risk factors, and sharing the details of high-risk individuals with the respective blocks for community-based follow-up through ASHA, ANM, and Community Health Officer.

The health facilities were asked to make medications and medical equipment including oxygen supplies available.

The treatment coverage has increased to 92%, placing India ahead of other high-burden countries and global universal health coverage. India aims to eliminate TB this year.

India accounted for 67% of global TB cases in '24: WHO

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

INDIA is among eight countries accounting for 67% of total TB cases in 2024, according to the WHO Global Tuberculosis Report 2025, released on Wednesday. In 2024, eighty-seven per cent of the global number of people who developed TB disease was concentrated in 30 countries.

Just eight of them accounted for 67% of the global total: India (25%), Indonesia (10%), the Philippines (6.8%), China (6.5%), Pakistan (6.3%), Nigeria (4.8%), the Democratic Republic of the Congo (3.9%) and Bangladesh (3.6%).

The report said TB remains one of the world's deadliest infectious killers, which claimed over 1.2 million lives and affected an estimated 10.7 million people in 2024,

Between 2023 and 2024, the global rate of people falling ill with TB declined by nearly 2%, while deaths from TB fell by 3%. According to the union health ministry, in 2024, over 26.18 lakh TB patients were diagnosed in India. In 2024, TB incidence in India dropped by 21% from 237 per lakh population in 2015 to 187 per lakh population in 2024 – almost double the rate of decline observed globally.

The treatment coverage has increased to 92%, placing India ahead of other high-burden countries and global universal health coverage. India aims to eliminate TB by 2025.

3-judge bench to hear 'choice of the party' on court for anticipatory bail

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

A three-judge bench of the Supreme Court will decide whether it is the "choice of the litigant" to move the High Court for anticipatory bail or is it mandatory to first approach a Sessions Court.

On Wednesday, the top court's two-judge bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta said that the matter needs to be heard by a three-judge bench and referred it accordingly.

"The matter will be posted for hearing once the three-judge bench is constituted," said the bench. In this case, the apex court had already appointed senior lawyer, Siddharth Luthra as an amicus curiae (Friend of the court) to assist the court in the matter.

On September 8, the top court expressed its serious concern over a "regular practice" at the Kerala High Court for entertaining anticipatory bail pleas without requiring the person to first approach the Sessions Court. The SC had said that such practices do not take place in other courts.

"One issue which is bothering us... In Kerala High Court there seems to be a regular practice that the High Court accepts anticipatory bail directly without the litigant approaching the Sessions court first. Why is that so?," the SC had earlier pointed out.

Justice Nath also had added that he was "not commenting on the present case, but as a matter of principle...It doesn't happen in any High Court."

While issuing notice to the Registrar General of the Kerala High Court, the bench had earlier observed that the High Court entertaining anticipatory bail pleas without it being considered by the trial court first may lead to proper facts not being brought on record, which otherwise would have come before the sessions court.

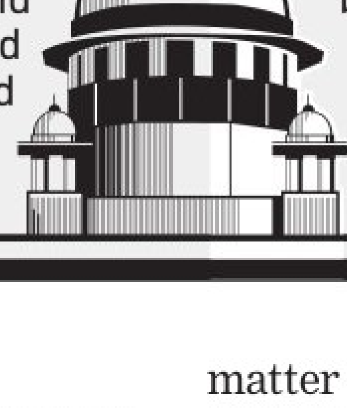
Verdict reserved on Aravalli Hills issue

The Supreme Court on Wednesday reserved its verdict on the issue of defining the Aravalli Hills and Ranges for ensuring environmental conservation, land use regulation, and mining activities in Delhi, Haryana, Rajasthan, and Gujarat. A bench headed by CJI Gavai reserved the verdict after hearing.



'How to prevent courtroom mishaps?'

The Supreme Court on Wednesday asked the attorney general and the Bar association for suggestions to prevent recurrence of incidents like attempted shoe hurling at CJI Gavai on court premises. A bench of Justices Surya Kant and Joymalya Bagchi said the court will look into what needs to be done.

Her idea of settling abroad led to our divorce: Doc's ex-husband

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

SERVING as a lecturer at Ganesh Shankar Vidyarthi Medical College in Kanpur, Dr Shaheen Shahid, who has been arrested in connection with the Jaish-e-Mohammed (JeM) module busted in Faridabad, got married to Dr Zafar Hayat in 2003. Her marriage with Dr Hayat, currently working as an ophthalmologist at KMP hospital in Kanpur, lasted only for seven years and both, with two kids, divorced each other in 2012.

Now with Dr Shaheen in police net, Dr Hayat recalled how she had started mounting pressure on him to settle abroad and that was the reason for their divorce. He said Dr Shaheen wanted the family, including two children, to settle either in Australia or Europe before getting divorce from him in 2012.

"I have nothing to do with her, no links since 2012. I do not share any relation with her. We have two children and they stay with me. We had an arranged marriage. I haven't been in touch with her ever since we separated," Dr Hayat said while interacting with media persons on Wednesday.

Asked if Dr Shaheen was a religious person, Dr Hayat denied, claiming that she was never very particular about religion. "Rather she was a liberal. She wanted us to settle in Australia or Europe. After that, we separated," he added. "We had differences over going to Australia. My children do not talk to her. She was a professor of pulmonology, dealing with ailments related to respiratory system. In 2006 she completed her degree," said Dr Hayat.

Police sources said probe agencies were tracing any of the old contacts of Shaheen in Kanpur. Shaheen was also associated with Al-Falah University in Faridabad and closely linked to Dr Muzammil, a Kashmiri doctor who was also arrested over the haul of 2,900 kg of explosives and inflammable materials from his rented rooms in Faridabad.

On Tuesday, Shaheen's father Syed Ahmad Ansari said that it was difficult for him to believe that she could be involved in any such activity.

"I cannot believe that my daughter was involved in such activities," he said. Teams from the NIA and ATS also visited the house of Dr Shaheen's father in Lucknow on Tuesday following her arrest in the Faridabad terror module case.

J&K docs under probe, agencies on hot chase of terror modules

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AFTER the busting of a 'white-collar' inter-state terror module comprising medical professionals, Jammu and Kashmir police and intelligence agencies have launched an extensive background check on the doctors, who are directly or indirectly connected to the arrested persons or Dr Umar Nabi, suspected to have driven the i20 car that exploded near Red Fort in Delhi on Monday.

Sources said police are screening background of doctors, who were friends with Dr Nabi, Dr Muzamil, who worked at Al Falah in Faridabad, and Dr Adeeel, who was with a hospital in UP's Saharanpur. "Police are conducting a check on doctors who were classmates or close associates of the trio. This includes those who studied with them at Government Medical College Srinagar, as well as those who worked with them at GMC Anantnag before they moved out of Jammu and Kashmir," a police officer said.

"The aim of the background check is to ensure that no professional or financial links to the suspected terror module are overlooked," the officer said. Over a dozen doctors from the Valley have been questioned. "The interrogations are being carried out to ascertain whether any of them were aware of, or inadvertently aided the activities of the module," another officer said.

According to sources, two doctors Dr Zahoor, said to be a friend of Dr Nabi, and Dr Tajamul Malik, a resident of Kulgam, have been picked up for questioning. Another doctor Sajjad Ahmed Malla, a resident of Pulwama and an alleged associate of Dr Nabi, was detained from his residence in south Kashmir. He was working in a Delhi hospital. Police said questioning of doctors does not imply that they are linked to terror modules or Delhi blast. "We are tracing communication trails to ensure there are no hidden links to terror network or Delhi blast," a police officer said.

DEBRIEFING THE MEET

- Govt adopts an uncompromising stance against terrorism
- Unanimous resolution was made condemning the Red Fort blast on Monday, global support extended to India appreciated
- Tributes were paid to the victims of the blast after meeting
- Ministry of Home Affairs handed the case over to the NIA for a detailed and thorough investigation
- PM met blast victims at LNJP Hospital, prayed for recovery

Modi chairs CCS meeting to firm up 'befitting response'

'Security forces given complete autonomy to track down perpetrators'

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi chaired a meeting of the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) at his residence on Wednesday to assess the situation following Monday's explosion stressing the need for a befitting response against those responsible for the attack.

Upon returning from Bhutan, the Prime Minister went straight to Lok Nayak Jai Prakash (LNJP) Hospital to meet the victims injured in the blast. He said in a social media post, "Went to LNJP Hospital and met those injured during the blast in Delhi. Praying for everyone's quick recovery. Those behind the conspiracy will be brought to justice!"

Before the CCS meeting, the prime minister again affirmed that the perpetrators would not be spared.

The Union Cabinet also met separately and unanimously condemned the blast, reaffirming India's zero tolerance policy toward terrorism in all its forms. It appreciated the global support extended to India and lauded the timely response of security agencies and citizens who acted with courage and compassion.

Although officials did not issue a briefing after the CCS meeting, sources indicated that committee members held a detailed discussion on the progress of the investigation, which the National Investigation Agency (NIA) is currently leading. Home Minister Amit Shah and Defence Minister Rajnath Singh attended the meeting, where officials shared inputs and assessed the security situation.

"It can be understood that the meeting would have gone into detail on every aspect and initial findings, with discussions on post-blast action against the conspirators. Since this was the first car blast after the first round of Operation Sindoor was halted, the government would certainly be uncompromising against terrorism," a source said. The source added that the government granted security forces full authority to track down those behind the attack.

The CCS meeting was followed by a Union Cabinet session paying tribute to the victims. Both meetings lasted several hours. The Ministry of Home Affairs has formally handed over the case to the NIA, and the government is expected to act once the investigation concludes.

Haryana univ under lens over 'white-collar' terror networks

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

AL-FALAH University, located in Dhauj village of Haryana's Faridabad district, has come under scrutiny after three of its doctors were arrested in connection with what investigators have described as a "white-collar terror module" following the Delhi blast.

Police sources said the module, which allegedly operated under the direction of Pakistan-backed handlers, had members who may have allegedly used the university's facilities to coordinate logistics and possibly assemble explosives. The university, however, denied that possibility.

According to investigators, Dr Umar Un Nabi, a resident of Pulwama in Jammu and Kashmir and the suspected suicide attacker in the Red Fort blast, was working as an assistant professor at the university. Two other doctors, Dr Muzzamil Shakeel and Dr Shaheen Shahid from Lucknow, were also employed there.

FALAH SCHOOL OF MEDICAL SCIENCES & RESEARCH CENTRE HOSPITAL

Police suspect that a room in the medical college building occupied by Dr Muzzamil was used by the group for meetings and coordination. Officers believe that Umar and Shaheen may have used the same space to plan logistics and transport routes for ammonium nitrate and other chemicals.

So far, around fifty-two people from the university, including staff and students, have been questioned. Students told the police that the accused doctors rarely interacted with them. The university campus, spread across seventy-six acres in the Muslim-dominated Dhauj village, was searched extensively on Tuesday, including the hostel blocks where students and teachers reside.

Investigators are probing whether the university's laboratories or medical facilities were used to assemble explosive devices. Forensic teams have collected chemical samples, residues, and glassware from a laboratory that has since been sealed. All containers, solvents, and reagents intended for academic use are undergoing analysis at the State Forensic Science Laboratory in Madhuban. "We have not ruled out more connections within the campus," a senior police official said.

5 NABBED IN ASSAM FOR 'HATE' REMARKS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

FIVE people have been arrested in Assam for allegedly spreading "offensive and inflammatory" content online in connection with the Delhi blast.

The persons arrested were identified as Mattiur Rahman of Darrang, Hassan Ali Mondal of Goalpara, Abdul Latif of Chirang, Wajhul Kamal of Kamrup and Nur Amin Ahmed of Bongaigaon. Disclosing the arrests of the people through a post on X, Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma said the Assam Police would continue to act swiftly and firmly against anyone misusing social media to spread hatred or glorify terror.

Another retired school headmaster from southern Assam's Cachar district was detained by the police on Tuesday for alleged objectionable comments on social media. He was released after questioning. The arrests came hours after the CM had directed Director General of Police (DGP) Harmeet Singh to closely monitor social media activities and act against individuals supporting the Delhi blast.

"We noticed that some people either welcomed the incident or put up joyful emojis on Facebook. We are doing their background checks. I have instructed the DGP to check who these people are and to arrest them if they are from Assam," Sarma had said.

"If people celebrate an act of terror where lives have been lost, it means they support terrorism, directly or indirectly," he added. Sarma stated that the country must unite to prevent the resurgence of terrorism. He said recovery of huge quantity of explosives indicated that there was a larger design.

Rly staff honoured for averting disaster

The Northeast Frontier Railway (NFR) honoured three railway employees with cash rewards and certificates for their alertness while on duty that helped avert a potential disaster. The employees are loco pilot Jitendra Kumar, senior assistant loco pilot Sailendra Kumar Keshari and train manager Bholaram Das. On October 23 night, their goods train was passing between Kokrajhar and Salakati stations in the Bodoland Territorial Region when the crew sensed a sudden heavy jerk. Demonstrating presence of mind, they stopped the train, alerted control authorities, and discovered damage to the tracks in a suspected blast.

Jubi (8), a brave member of the K9 sniffer dog squad of biodiversity and wildlife conservation NGO Aaranyak, died after aiding the Kaziranga National Park and Tiger Reserve authority in fighting wildlife crime for eight years. A Belgian Malinois dog, Jubi remained deployed at the park's Bagori range with her handler Sanatan Mali. "Salute to our braveheart for tireless service in protecting the park. Your keen nose and loyal heart kept wildlife safe. May you find peace and joy in your happy hunting grounds," said park director Sonali Ghosh. DrBibhab Kumar Talukdar, Aaranyak executive director, said, "Jubi was one of our most skilled K9 members."

Row after neglect to Cup-winning player

India's World Cup-winning women cricketers were accorded a grand welcome by their respective state governments when they returned home. But in Assam, no govt official was present at Guwahati airport to welcome Uma Chetry, the lone member of the team from Assam and the Northeast. This alleged oversight ruffled a few feathers. Minister Pijush Hazarika admitted, "It was our mistake not to welcome and felicitate Assam's pride Uma Chetri at airport, for which I apologise to the player as an Assamese." He said the same mistake was made by other parties. After the controversy, some ministers visited her at her Bokakhat residence.

I-T raids in 24 locations rock Gujarat small parties in political donation case

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

THE Gujarat Income Tax Department on Wednesday carried out a massive crackdown in over 24 locations in Ahmedabad, Gandhinagar, Surat, Vadodara, Rajkot, and Junagadh, targetting small political parties suspected of laundering black money through fake political donations.

The main focus of the raids was Bharatiya National Janata Dal chief Sanjay Vitthalbhai Gajera, whose residence, office, and his driver Ronak Singh's home were searched early in the morning. Officials seized documents, digital data, and details of all assets.

Sources said the searches followed months of investigation into suspicious donations made to little-known parties that reported large incomes despite having minimal political presence. "Some of these parties declared donations worth hundreds of crores while securing barely a few thousand votes," an official said.

The Bharatiya National Janata Dal, founded by Gajera's father, late Vitthal Gajera, contested the 2022 Assembly and 2024 Lok Sabha polls. It fielded eight candidates who together polled just 11,496 votes. Yet, the party declared an income of ₹957 crore through donations.

According to sources, the modus operandi was deceptively simple: donations were shown as cheque payments to political outfits, which then returned a major portion in cash after deducting commission. This operation, insiders say, could expose crores of rupees in unaccounted political funding flowing through Gujarat. The department also found luxury vehicles, including an MG Gloster SUV and a Harley-Davidson bike, linked to the party, now being examined as disproportionate assets.

According to an ADR report, Gujarat has 95 registered but unrecognized political parties, 36 of which have filed financial reports. Five such parties alone declared ₹2,316 crore between 2019–20 and 2023–24.

Union MoS rules out BJP-SAD alliance in Punjab

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

UNION Minister of State for Railways Ravneet Singh Bittu on Wednesday ruled out any possibility of an alliance between the BJP and the Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) for the Punjab assembly elections to be held in 2027. "We will contest the 2027 assembly polls on our own," Bittu said, adding that the BP is confident of its growing strength in Punjab.

He said the railways ministry has sanctioned a 25.72-km Ferozepur-Patti rail link project connecting Punjab's Malwa and Majha regions with an outlay of ₹764 crore. He accused the AAP-led state government of delaying progress on the project as it failed to respond to a Centre's letter on land acquisition.

The project will reduce the distance between Ferozepur and Amritsar from 196 km to about 100 km, and shorten the Jammu-Ferozepur-Fazilka-Mumbai corridor by 236 km, he said. The new alignment will also revive a historic route lost during partition, reducing the Ferozepur-Khemkaran distance from 294 km to 110 km. It will also provide a faster route from Amritsar to the seaports of Gujarat via Rajasthan.

Commenting on the ongoing student protests at Panjab University over the Senate elections, the minister said the Centre has accepted nearly all demands except the announcement of the election dates.

PCC chief reappointed in U'khand Cong major rejig

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE Congress high command has initiated a significant organisational overhaul in Uttarakhand, signalling the official commencement of preparations for the upcoming 2027 Assembly elections.

In a move that has stirred the state unit, Ganesh Godiyal has been appointed as the new Pradesh Congress President, marking his second term in the crucial role.

Godiyal, known for his assertive approach, previously held the post from 2021 to 2022, taking charge just before the 2022 Assembly polls. At that time, he had limited opportunity for comprehensive restructuring. This time, with slightly over a year remaining until the next election, Godiyal is expected to have ample time to rebuild the organisational structure and galvanise party workers.

The decision appears to fulfil a long-standing wish expressed by former Chief Minister Harish Rawat, who had recently advocated on social media for greater representation of Brahmin faces within the organisation.

Congress State Spokesperson Garima Mahra Dasouni told TNIE, "We have called upon our workers to distance themselves from the divisive efforts of the BJP. With Leader of Opposition Yashpal Arya, Deputy Leader of Opposition Bhuvan Kapri, senior Congress stalwarts Pritam Singh, Harak Singh, and now the newly appointed Ganesh Godiyal."

Trump urges Israel Prez to pardon Bibi, stirring debate on US influence

JERUSALEM

US President Donald Trump on Wednesday sent a letter to Israel's president asking him to pardon Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu in a long-running corruption trial that has bitterly divided the country.

It was the latest attempt by Trump to intervene in the case on behalf of Netanyahu, raising questions about undue American influence over internal Israeli affairs. Trump also called for a pardon for Netanyahu during a speech to Israel's parliament last month, when he made a brief visit to promote his ceasefire plan for the war in Gaza.

In Wednesday's letter to President Isaac Herzog, Trump called the corruption case "political, unjustified prosecution." "As the Great State of Israel and the amazing Jewish People move past the terribly difficult times of the last three years, I hereby call on you to fully pardon Benjamin Netanyahu, who has been a formidable and decisive War Time Prime Minister, and is now leading Israel into a time of peace," Trump wrote.

Netanyahu is the only sitting prime minister in Israeli history to stand trial, after being charged with fraud, breach of trust and accepting bribes in three separate cases accusing him of exchanging favors with wealthy political supporters.

Netanyahu rejects the allegations, and in Trump-like language has condemned the case as a witch hunt orchestrated by the media, police and judiciary. Netanyahu has taken the stand multiple times over the past year, but the case has been repeatedly delayed as he has dealt with wars and unrest stemming from Hamas-led militant attacks of October 2023.

Israel's presidency is a largely ceremonial office, but the president does have the authority to grant pardons.

Letter called it a political trial, reviving charges on internal meddling

Herzog acknowledged receiving the letter, but said that anyone seeking a presidential pardon must submit a formal request. Herzog has declined to say how he would respond to a request by Netanyahu, saying publicly only that he believes the trial has been a distraction and source of division for the country and that he would prefer to see Netanyahu and the prosecution reach a settlement. When Trump called for a pardon in his speech last month, he received a raucous standing ovation from Netanyahu's allies in parliament. But it has also raised questions about American influence over Israeli policies, especially relating to security in the Gaza Strip. Those concerns came to a head during a series of visits from senior American leaders, from Vice President JD Vance to Secretary of State Marco Rubio. Israeli media dubbed the visits "Bibi-sitting," implying officials came to ensure Israel upheld the fragile ceasefire.

Netanyahu and Vance dismissed this, saying the nations share a strong partnership. AP

Amid disquiet, UK minister denies plot to oust PM Starmer

LONDON

A senior member of the British government on Wednesday denied he's plotting to oust Prime Minister Keir Starmer, in a sign of deep anxiety in the Labour Party over its dire poll ratings less than 18 months after a landslide election victory.

British media was awash in speculation after Starmer's office preemptively told news outlets that Starmer would fight any challenge to his leadership. Unnamed aides pointed to Health Secretary Wes Streeting as a potential challenger.

What looked like an attempt to strengthen Starmer's authority backfired. The reports set of jitters verging on panic among Labour lawmakers, who fear the party is heading for a big defeat at the next election.

Streeting said talk of a leadership challenge was "self-defeating and self-destructive."

"It's totally self-defeating briefing, not least because it's not true," he told Sky News. He said "whoever's been briefing this has been watching too much 'Celebrity Traitors'," referring to the hit reality TV show that pits faithful members of a group against conniving enemies within.

The 42-year-old health secretary is one of the government's most effective communicators and is widely tipped as a future party leader. In the House of Commons, Starmer rejected a claim by Conservative leader Kemi Badenoch that there is "a toxic culture in Downing Street," with the government embroiled in "civil war." "This is a united team," Starmer said, to guffaws from opposition lawmakers. He said Streeting is "doing a great job, as is the whole of my Cabinet." Starmer's press secretary said the prime minister condemned the briefing against Streeting and "would never authorise attacks on any Cabinet minister." She said Starmer is determined to stay in his job and fight the next election as prime minister. AP

Starmer dodges question on Trump's BBC lawsuit

LONDON: British Prime Minister Keir Starmer refused to say Wednesday whether he would urge US President Donald Trump to drop his threat to sue the BBC for a billion dollars over the broadcaster's edit of a speech he made after losing the 2020 presidential election. During his weekly questioning in the House of Commons, Starmer was asked by Ed Davey, the leader of the Liberal Democrats, whether he would intervene in the row between Trump and the British public broadcaster, and to rule out the idea that the British people would hand over money to the US president. Instead of responding directly, Starmer reiterated the government's line since the BBC's director-general, Tim Davie, announced his resignation.

Oct retail inflation cools to 0.25%

Easing prices raise hopes for another round of rate cut by RBI's Monetary Policy Committee

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

INDIA'S retail inflation eased sharply to a record low of 0.25% in October primarily due to a steep fall in food prices and the recent Goods and Services Tax (GST) rate cuts, data from the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI) showed on Wednesday. Ex-gold, the inflation slipped into negative territory at –0.57%.

The record low inflation in October raises hopes for another round of rate cut, when the monetary policy committee of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) meets in December.

The retail inflation has touched the lowest level since the Consumer Price Index (CPI) series began, which took 2012 as the base year. Food inflation turned negative at -5.02%, with prices of vegetables, cereals, and pulses easing amid improved supplies and favourable weather. Vegetable prices showed a year-on-year decline of 28%, pulses price fell by 16% while spices declined by over 3%. Clothing and footwear, on which GST rates were reduced, saw a mere 1.7% increase in prices year-on-year.

"The softer print was driven by muted trends in F&B prices, which declined by 0.2% as against the 2.2% MoM uptick seen in October 2024. Looking ahead, ICRA expects the CPI F&B segment to remain in the deflationary zone in November 2025, although the extent of the same may narrow, as the favourable base begins to fade away. This would push up the headline CPI inflation to above 1.0% in November 2025. The CPI inflation is expected to witness a sustained uptick thereafter, likely crossing the 4.0% in Q1 FY2027, as the base turns adverse," said Aditi Nayar, Chief Economist, ICRA Ltd. The recent GST rate rationalisation—merging multiple slabs into two primary brackets of 5% and 18%—eased price pressures. Several daily-use goods, including dairy items and stationery, were shifted to the lower tax slab, leading to immediate relief for consumers and reduced input costs for manufacturers. October was the first full month in which the impact of the GST rate cut was visible.

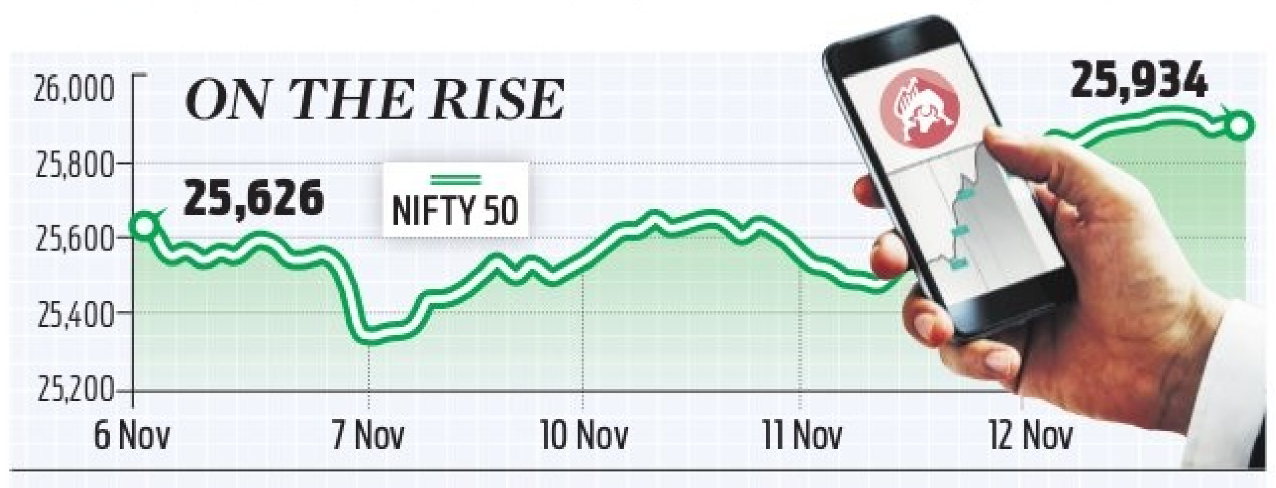
Dipti Deshpande, Principal Economist, Crisil Ltd, said over time, the inflation benefits of reduction in GST rates for non-food categories will be greater than for food categories. Although food has a larger weight in the overall Consumer Price Index (CPI), the extent of net GST rate reductions for non-food items is greater.

She further that core inflation excluding gold should continue to serve as a better indicator of demand-side price pressures and for assessing the impact of GST rate changes.

For the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), the sharp decline provides greater policy flexibility, with headline inflation far below the 4% target and well under the 6% tolerance band. With inflation rate much below the tolerance band, economists expect a further rate cut in the upcoming monetary policy meeting.

US trade talks, hopes for Fed rate cut bolster investors' sentiment

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi



We expect markets to maintain positive bias, supported by the ongoing earnings season, constructive progress on the India–US trade deal, and improving global cues — Siddhartha Khemka of Motilal Oswal

DOMESTIC markets continued their positive momentum on Wednesday, with the benchmark index Nifty and Sensex gaining about 0.70% each. Hopes of the National Democratic Alliance (NDA) returning to power in Bihar and talks around the India-US trade deal renewed investors' sentiments.

Optimism over the anticipated resolution of the US government shutdown and growing expectations of interest rate cuts by the US Federal Reserve bolstered the sentiment.

Sensex rallied 595.19 points, or 0.7%, to settle at 84,466.51 while the NSE Nifty50 rose 180.85 points, or 0.70%, to close at 25,875.80. "Investor sentiment remained upbeat despite heightened volatility ahead of the Bihar election results. On the global front, optimism grew as the United States Senate made progress toward ending the government shutdown, while expectations of a possible Federal Reserve rate cut next month further boosted risk appetite," said Ashika Institutional Equities.

Siddhartha Khemka - research head, wealth management, Motilal Oswal Financial Services, said the upmove was supported by the United States softening its stand on India over trade tariffs.

Additionally, steady the second quarter earnings, exit polls in Bihar pointing to an NDA victory, and systematic investment plan (SIP) inflows touching a record high further buoyed sentiments, added Khemka.

Most sectors ended in the green, led by strong buying in information technology stocks.

The Nifty IT index surged nearly 2%, marking its third consecutive session of gains as Trump's remarks supporting skilled foreign workers improved sentiment around visa policies. Broader markets remained firm, with the Nifty Midcap100 and Smallcap100 up 0.8% each. Khemka added that investors now await key macroeconomic data due tomorrow, including UK GDP, US CPI, and Initial Jobless Claims, along with quarterly results from Eicher Motors, Hero Motocorp, Muthoot Finance, LG Electronics, and Samvardhana Motherson.

Cabinet approves ₹45k crore package for boosting exports

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government on Wednesday announced a massive ₹45,000 crore package for boosting the exports sector.

The Union cabinet approved the introduction of the Credit Guarantee Scheme for Exporters (CGSE) to provide 100% credit guarantee coverage by the National Credit Guarantee Trustee Company Limited (NCGTC) to member lending institutions (MLIs). The scheme will enable MLIs to extend additional credit facilities of up to ₹20,000 crore to eligible exporters, including MSMEs.

The Cabinet cleared the Export Promotion Mission (EPM) — an initiative announced in the Union Budget 2025–26 — aimed at strengthening India's export competitiveness, especially for MSMEs, first-time exporters, and labour-intensive sectors.

The CGSE will be implemented by the Department of Financial Services (DFS) through NCGTC to extend additional credit support to exporters. A management committee chaired by the Secretary, DFS, will monitor the scheme's implementation and progress.

As per the government, the scheme is likely to enhance global competitiveness of Indian exporters and facilitate diversification into new and emerging markets. "By enabling collateral-free credit access under CGSE, it will strengthen liquidity, ensure smooth business operations, and reinforce India's progress towards achieving the $1 trillion export target," said an official statement.

EPM to provide framework for export promotion

The Export Promotion Mission will provide a comprehensive, flexible, and digitally driven framework for export promotion, with an outlay of ₹25,060 crore for FY26-FY31. The mission represents a shift from multiple fragmented schemes to a single, outcome-based scheme for evolving exporter needs

The Export Promotion Mission will provide a comprehensive, flexible, and digitally driven framework for export promotion, with an outlay of ₹25,060 crore for FY26 to FY31. The mission represents a strategic shift from multiple fragmented schemes to a single, outcome-based, adaptive mechanism that can respond swiftly to global trade challenges and evolving exporter needs. EPM will be anchored in a collaborative framework involving the Department of Commerce, Ministry of MSME, Ministry of Finance, and other key stakeholders, including financial institutions, export promotion councils, commodity boards, industry associations, and state governments.

New royalty rates for key minerals receive govt nod

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

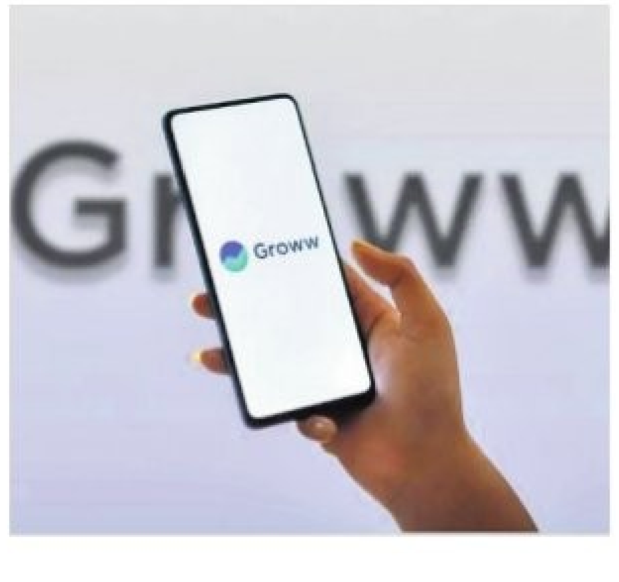
IN a bid to accelerate domestic production of rare earth and critical minerals, the government has approved rationalisation of royalty rates for Graphite, Caesium, Rubidium, and Zirconium—minerals that are essential for high-tech industries and green energy technologies.

Graphite, Caesium, Rubidium, and Zirconium are vital for advanced technological applications and the ongoing global energy transition. Graphite and Zirconium are among the 24 critical and strategic minerals listed in the Mines and Minerals (Development and Regulation) Act, 1957 (MMDR Act).

As per the decision, the royalty rate for Caesium—used mainly in high-tech electronic sectors, particularly in atomic clocks, GPS systems, high-precision instruments, and medical equipment including cancer therapy devices—has been fixed at 2% of the average sale price of Caesium metal, chargeable on the Caesium metal contained in the ore produced. For Graphite, a key component in electric vehicle (EV) batteries, the royalty rate has been differentiated based on fixed carbon content. Graphite with 80% or more fixed carbon will attract a royalty of 2% of the average sale price on an ad valorem basis.

Groww makes bumper mkt debut with 12% gain

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi



STOCKBROKING platform Groww made a bumper debut on the stock exchanges on Wednesday and broke the recent streak of discounted listings. Groww share price opened at ₹112 per share on the NSE, 12% higher than the issue price of ₹100. On the BSE, Groww's share price today opened at Rs 114 per share, up 14% from the issue price.

Before Groww's premium listing, three major IPOs - Lenskart Solutions, Studds Accessories and Orkla India - opened on the bourses below the issue price even after their respective IPOs recording high booking numbers. This had raised concerns that investors are wary of the valuations companies are asking in the public market.

Groww shares closed day 1 with a premium of nearly 31% against the issue price of ₹100. The stock closed 30.94% higher to close at ₹130.94 apiece on the BSE and it ended 28.85% higher at ₹128.85 apiece on the NSE. During the session, the stock appreciated by 34.4% each to ₹134.40 and ₹134.34 apiece, on the NSE and BSE, respectively. At the end of the trading session, the company's market valuation stood at ₹79,546.79 crore on the NSE.

The IPO of Billionbrains Garage Ventures, parent company of Groww, was booked 17.60 times by the end of its closing day of bidding. The initial share sale received bids of about 641.87 crore shares against 36.47 crore shares on offer. The qualified institutional buyers (QIBs) led the buying, bidding for 438.04 crore shares against their quota of 19.89 crore, translating to 22.02 times subscription.

Tata Motors' CV business listed at 27% premium

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SHARES of Tata Motors commercial vehicles business on Wednesday listed on the stock exchanges at a premium of 27% as compared to their issue price.

The listing of commercial vehicles business scrip under the parent entity came more than a month after Tata Motors completed its demerger by splitting into two independent entities. The passenger business arm, Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles Ltd, was listed on October 14. The scrip of commercial vehicle (CV) business of Tata Motors Ltd began trading at ₹335, up 28.48% from its discovered price on the NSE. During the session, it rallied 32.31% to ₹345. Later, it ended at ₹330, up by 26.56 per cent on the exchange. On the BSE, it listed at ₹330.25, up 26.09 per cent. In the session, it hit a high of ₹346.75, up 32.4%. Finally, it ended the day at ₹327.65, up 25.3%.

FinMin, MSME bodies discuss better credit access, hassle-free clearances

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

THE MSME sector has urged finance ministry to enhance credit access of the MSMEs by exploring alternative mechanisms of financing and take measures for trade facilitation with faster and hassle-free clearances.

The representative of the sector met finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday as part of the pre-budget consultation. "There is still a finance gap. There were discussions on how MSMEs can have access to alternative finance mechanisms so that all of them are able to access funds whenever required," said a source who was present in the meeting. MSMEs have been assured that the government wants to create a business environment where most MSMEs get the adequate support for creating a globally competitive ecosystem in India.

Another focus area was that of enhancing competitiveness of the MSMEs as part of the trade facilitation measures so that they can tap better export markets. "We discussed how we can take it to a point where clearance is faster. How we create situations where there are export hubs that will help tap the markets better," added the official. The ministry has asked the MSMEs to ensure quality measures so that the products can get more global recognition. Meanwhile, the MSMEs have been advised to use green and affordable energy sources and at the same time manufacture high quality products.

Q2FY26RESULTS

Low-cost airline SpiceJet's loss widens to ₹635 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SPICEJET on Wednesday reported widening of net loss to ₹635.42 crore in the second quarter (Q2FY26) as multiple factors including foreign exchange loss, additional expenses related to grounded as well as reinducted aircraft and airspace curbs, hit the budget carrier's bottom line.

The airline, which had faced multiple headwinds, had recorded a net loss of ₹447.54 crore in the year-ago period and expects positive financial performance in the second half. Excluding foreign exchange loss, the carrier had a net loss of ₹447.70 crore in the second quarter of the current fiscal.

Asian Paints profit rises 43% on robust demand

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE country's largest paints maker Asian Paints on Wednesday reported a 43% rise in consolidated net profit at ₹994 crore for the second quarter of the current financial year, driven by strong performance in its decorative, automotive and industrial paints business.

Consolidated net sales increased 6.4% to ₹8,513.7 crore from ₹8,003 crore a year ago. On a standalone basis, net sales rose 5.8% to ₹7,336 crore, the company said in a statement.

Reacting to the numbers, the Asian Paints counter rose 5% to ₹2,787. "We saw an improvement in our domestic decorative business with a double-digit volume growth of 10.9% and a 6% rise in value, despite the challenges posed by an extensive and prolonged monsoons. This growth was driven by our ability to generate demand across urban and rural areas through regional activations and intense marketing/brand building measures," said Amit Syngle, managing director.

Domestic decorative business saw volume growth of 10.9% with revenue growth of 6%, helped by improved consumer sentiments, festive demand and broad-based growth across urban and rural centres, he said. "Growth was accelerated by enhanced performance in automotive and industrial protective coatings segments, contributing to 6.7% value growth in the domestic coatings business," Syngle said.

Ashok Leyland net profit rises 7% to ₹820 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

COMMERCIAL vehicle maker Ashok Leyland on Wednesday reported a 7% rise in its consolidated net profit at ₹820 crore for the second quarter ended September 30, led by robust sales across businesses.

The Hinduja group flagship reported a net profit of ₹767 crore in the July-September quarter of last fiscal.

Revenue from operations rose to ₹12,577 crore on a consolidated basis for the period under review from ₹11,142 crore in the year-ago period, Ashok Leyland said in a regulatory filing.

ISL, I-League clubs to meet sports minister

The crisis in Indian football on Wednesday reached the doorsteps of sports minister Mansukh Mandaviya after a meeting between the All India Football Federation and CEOs of the Indian Super League (ISL) clubs failed to end the deadlock that has brought the domestic circuit to a halt. The clubs' representatives will meet Mandaviya on Thursday morning to try and figure a way out.

₹60 tickets, a strip that may take time to spin: How Kolkata is gearing up

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Kolkata

IN the beginning of the noughties, a Kolkata Test was as common as seeing people in this part of the country snacking on jhalmuri in newspaper-turned-containers. The tangy number's association with Bengal was such that films regularly showed that tongue-smacking mixture to establish it was being shot in this region. Just like the jhalmuri, Eden Gardens' heady flavours meant the venue and the city remained in position A1 even considering India's gargantuan cricketing ecosystem. The inaugural match of the Asian Test Championships. A maiden pink ball India Test. One of the venues for Sachin Tendulkar's farewell series. In fact, between March 1998 and November 2019, it was the unofficial home of Indian Test cricket.

14 Tests in 21 years and change. No other Indian Test venue had hosted more than 11. There was, it seemed, a certain pull, an invisible magic associated with this venue. It didn't matter that BCCI presidents hailed from Mumbai, Nagpur or Chennai -- and these things matter an awful lot generally -- but Eden evoked a sense of nominative determinism to the Indian men's team. Bliss. Paradise. But, then, suddenly, the lights were turned off, the music stopped and the band was sent home. Until this weekend.

***

It's not that Eden Gardens was completely ignored. It got a couple of plum matches during the 2023 World Cup including one of the two semifinals. But big-time red-ball cricket is a different beast. For almost six years, they saw Indian cricket's B and C centres host matches. New-age venues like Dharamsala started to grow in prominence while the one-time crown jewel of Indian cricket was seemingly pushed to the periphery. In November 2019, on the sidelines of the pink-ball Test between India and Bangladesh, the venue received a fresh coat of paint as it was decked up for the visit of then PM Sheikh Hasina to the city. Hasina and West Bengal CM, Mamata Banerjee, inaugurated that Test.

Wicketkeeper-batter Rishabh Pant during a training session | AP

Compared to that occasion, the Eden wore a lazier, more unhurried look to proceedings two days out from the series opener against South Africa. As a gentle sun slowly begun to take its effect, the Indian players limbered up in the outfield. Jasprit Bumrah started the session with a couple of gentle deliveries. KL Rahul, Yashasvi Jaiswal and Sai Sudharsan, expected to be the team's top-order, took it in turns to bat.

In a way, the identity of the top three captures not only India's recent transition but also Kolkata's absence in India's red-ball calendar. Rahul has featured in one game but the other two haven't. In fact, the only survivor from that 2019 game is Ravindra Jadeja. The other 10 have either retired or have not been picked.

****

Considering how other state associations have played a role in putting bums on seats for Tests, the Cricket Association of Bengal (CAB) are keen to do their bit. Per the official ticketing partner, all tickets for the first three days have gone. It's not a surprise because day tickets were available for as low as ₹60 (the cheapest season tickets could have been purchased for ₹300). On Wednesday, scores of people were outside the Stadium trying to source them. Some were haggling with the security guards outside the club house. When the first fans walk through the turnstiles on Friday morning, they will likely be greeted by a strip that seems to be a throwback to an earlier time when spin would take time to get into the game. Two days out from the game, the deck didn't have any of the telltale signs of uneven patches -- basically the lack of male pattern baldness -- running across the surface. It wore an even colour but it was left open to the elements. But there doesn't seem to be any danger of it breaking up early as afternoon temperatures were mild.

The Proteas coach, Shukri Conrad, expected the pacers to have a say on the surface. "If history is to be believed," he said in the press conference, "there's always something for the fast bowlers at Eden Gardens. "I expect the fast bowlers on both sides to have an impact on the game, especially in the first couple of days and for spin to come in slightly later." The time for talking, though, is almost over. In under two days, the hosts will play the world champions at a venue hoping to catch the headlines again.

Batter Jurel set to be part of playing XI

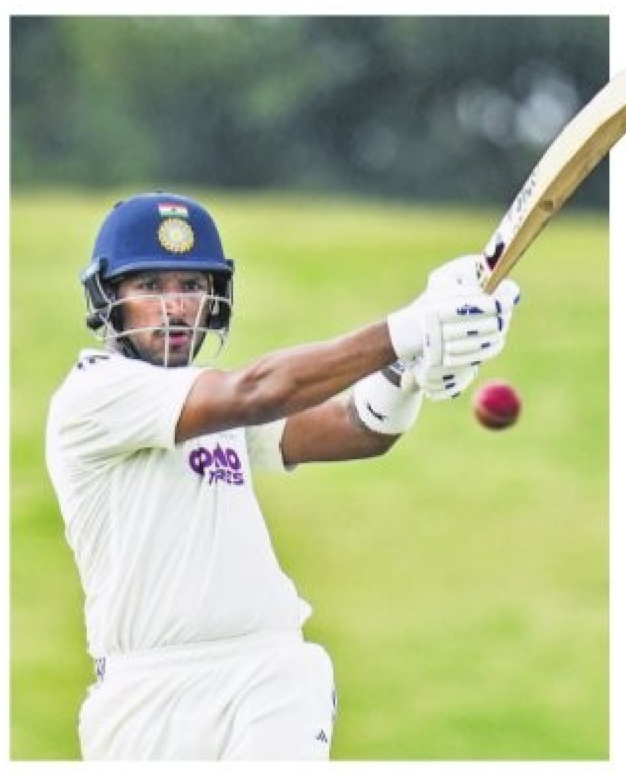
SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Kolkata

DHRUV Jurel has always had grandiose ambitions. Young players would demur at the sight of Kumar Sangakkara, one of the finest batters of his generation. Jurel, after the 2022 IPL final, knocked on Sangakkara's door to have a conversation about his pathway to the first team. It didn't matter that the team had Jos Buttler, Sanju Samson and Shimron Hetmyer, players who could keep wickets or be the designated finisher. Jurel, only 21 then, wanted clarity with regards to his own career.

In a way, this example very neatly describes a vision Jurel has of himself. It also kind of captures what makes him tick as an individual; his mental capacities. "Be like water," he had once recalled to this daily a quote attributed to Bruce Lee. "Adjust to the object and you shall find a way round or through."

Play as a wicketkeeper? Check. Play as a No. 5? Check. Play as a No. 8? Check. Play as a specialist batter? Check.

In an international career that began only in 2024, it's hard to believe that he has already fulfilled all of the above roles in the limited opportunities he has got. It speaks volumes about his growth trajectory. In January 2024, when he was first called up to the Indian team in red-ball cricket before the England series, he was viewed as a back-up to the back-up, one of the hardest gigs in the game. Before that summer was up, he had not only replaced Srikar Bharat but had played himself into contention as a serious cricketer across formats thanks to his exploits with Rajasthan Royals.



Dhruv Jurel | PTI

When Rishabh Pant came back post his car accident, Jurel's path to the first XI in Tests had again become challenging. But he knew he had the game to play as a pure batter, he knew he was more than a capable outfielder. So it was a question of marrying that belief with ability. He has done that over the last year. He has won games on his own, he has helped reinforce the middle-order even in the absence of Pant and has shown that he can bat with the bowlers.

In his last five matches, since the beginning of India's home season in September, he has made 140, 1 and 56 (against Australia A), 125, 44 and 6 n.o (against West Indies when Pant was injured) and 132 n.o and 127 n.o (against South Africa A with Pant as captain).

It's why the hosts will likely go in with the 24-year-old as a specialist batter in the middle-order. "I don't think you can leave him out for this Test, is the short answer," Ryan ten Doeschate, India assistant coach, said when asked about his place in the side. "But obviously, you can only pick 11 as well, so someone else will have to miss out. I think we've got a pretty good idea of the combination."

That someone may be Nitish Kumar Reddy, who was released from the squad on Wednesday. He featured in both Tests against West Indies but didn't get enough opportunities, either with bat or ball. "The primary thing is to set out a strategy to win the game, and then if you can accommodate giving guys a chance for development, that comes in," he added. "Our position certainly hasn't changed on Nitish. He didn't get much game time in Australia, but I would say, given the importance of the series and given the conditions we think we're going to face, he might miss out in this Test this week.

"Given the way Dhruv's gone in the last six months, scoring two hundreds in Bengaluru last week, he's certain to play this week... I would be very surprised if we don't see Dhruv and Rishabh playing in this Test this week."

It's a testament to how quickly he has won over the support staff that they are fine with the idea of telling the wider cricketing world that he's in the XI two days out. But then, Jurel isn't your everyday cricketer. He was somebody who didn't just dream of winning a solitary India cap. In an interview during an age-group event, he said he wanted to have 200 caps.

Grandiose ambitions for a cricketer who's very quickly showing that his floor may be as high as the ceiling of others.

Important to counter Bumrah, says Smith

CHANDRA PRABHU @Mumbai

THE showdown between the world's best pacers Jasprit Bumrah and Kagiso Rabada is something that former South Africa captain Graeme Smith is looking forward to when Proteas play India in the first Test starting on Friday at Kolkata.

The pitch at Eden Gardens for the first two days will likely offer more pace and bounce to the bowlers. This will help Bumrah and Rabada to showcase their skills. "I think it is never at the forefront of people's conversation when you are playing cricket in the subcontinent, getting off to a solid start with your top three (for the South African team) is important. There is nothing worse than if you go two or three wickets down and then the spinners come on and you're against the game. Countering Bumrah up front is going to be a big thing and likewise Rabada for India," he said on the sidelines of an SA20 India event here on Wednesday. Rabada has scalped 55 Test wickets against India in 14 Tests. He, however, has more wickets against Australia (58) and England (66). His memorable performance in whites this year was at the World Test Championship Final, where he picked 9/125 across two innings.

"Coming to the subcontinent, he is definitely the leader of the pack and how he can set the tone with that new ball is going to be important for Temba (Bavuma) and the team," Smith explained. Smith, who has handled the pressures as a captain as well as an opener, felt that the batters needed to step up for the team. "The Eden Gardens is a good place to bat. You get good value for runs for a stadium like that, especially when it gets full. That will motivate the South Africans a lot," he said.

Smith's colleague and former Protea great Hashim Amla also had a similar opinion on the batters. "I think it is the batting and the ability to get bigger runs on the board to allow your bowlers to exert that pressure is very important. That is going to be one of the biggest tests for both teams," he explained.

South Africa players train at Eden Gardens in Kolkata on Wednesday | AP

With the bat, South Africa rode high on performances of Ryan Rickelton, Tony de Zorzi and Aiden Markram so far this year. But does the current stock of batter come close to Amla? "I can't think of any at the moment for South Africa. It is difficult to pick one or two players. But it is more rare now than before," he said.

Confidence is key: Du Plessis

The World Champions tag could be a big boost but former SA batter Faf du Plessis warned that it might crumble anytime. "They will arrive as a team that they feel they have played well. They are the No 1 Test team in the world. But confidence also quickly goes. One moment you feel like you are in such great form and then a week later you feel like you are out of form."

Worlds: India & China's medal run halts

ENS @Chennai

THE medal standings reflect that shooters from China and India have been the dominant force in the ongoing ISSF World Championships in Cairo, Egypt. The two countries are occupying the top-two positions. There had been at least one shooter from either China or India on the podium in the Olympic discipline events until Tuesday.

Yao Qianxun (10m air pistol women), Liu Yukun (50m rifle 3 positions men) and India's Samrat Rana (10m air pistol men) claimed the world crown to be among the standouts. Chinese shooters had captured both the mixed team event titles while India had a silver through the combination of Esha Singh and Samrat in the 10m air pistol mixed category.

However, Wednesday was a different story as shooters from both India and China missed out on a podium finish in the women's 50m rifle 3 positions. In fact, only one shooter from either of these two countries managed to reach the eight-woman final.

Norway's Jeanette Hegg Duestad (C) won women's 50m rifle 3 positions gold

The likes of Ashi Chouksey and Anjum Moudgil and Sift Kaur Samra could only finish 15th, 17th and 48th respectively. From China, teenager Wang Zifei, who was aiming for her second individual medal, did well to qualify as second-best shooter but she could only finish as sixth-best in the final. Even 2022 edition champ Miao Wanru had fallen short during the qualification stage.

Instead it was Norway's Jeanette Hegg Duestad, who captured her first world title in the discipline. Jeanette used all her experience to take charge just before the elimination stage and went on to clinch the gold with a tally of 465.8, finishing just ahead of teenager Emely Jaeggi of Switzerland. Seonaid Mcintosh of Great Britain, who was making a comeback after a hiatus, also thrived during the elimination stage with some high 10s to walk away with a bronze.

It's a minor setback looking at the grand scheme of things but given the standards China and India have set in this edition and throughout the World Cups, the shooters are bound to be disappointed. On Thursday, the 25m pistol women event will commence with the precision stages. This is the final Olympic discipline event in the competition. Shooters from both nations will be hoping to return to the podium.

FIDE World Cup: Arjun, Pragg and Harikrishna head to tiebreaks in Rd 4

AGENCIES @Panaji

GM ARJUN Erigaisi and GM R Praggnanandhaa played out solid draws while P Harikrishna saved the day after finding himself in a difficult position to head into tiebreaks in the fourth round of the FIDE World Cup 2025 here on Wednesday.

Arjun accepted a draw after 36 moves against the experienced GM Peter Leko of Hungary with white pieces, Praggnanandhaa split the point after 30 moves against GM Daniil Dubov while Harikrishna also drew after 38 moves.

GM Jose Eduardo Martinez Alcantara, who has won with black pieces on Tuesday, became the first player to advance to the Round of 16 after he went for a threefold repetition and takes a draw against GM Alexey Sarana in 20 moves. He will now face the winner of the match between GM P Harikrishna and GM Nils Grandelius of Sweden.

Also advancing to the next round was two-time champion GM Levon Aronian after he drew the second game in 35 moves with Black against GM Radoslaw Wojtaszek.

Among the five Indians in fray in the fourth round, all eyes were on Arjun and Praggnanandhaa on the top boards.

Arjun opted for the Nimzo Indian opening with White against Leko and looked like he was prepared quite well as he gained time on the clock after 16 moves. But the Hungarian defended resolutely ghest ranked Indian opted to trade queens on the 20th move after thinking for 26 moves. He tried to push ahead thereafter but could not find a breakthrough.

"I am getting more and more in my preparations and I wasn't really afraid (of Arjun's opening line). I knew that this b5 that I played is quite solid and there cannot be any miracle in this position. But over the board when Arjun is blitzing all his moves, I know that there is always some pressure. But it was more or less equal all the time," said Leko after the match.

Praggnanandhaa was also satisfied with a draw in 30 moves with Black against GM Daniil Dubov. The Indian will now start with black pieces against the former World Rapid Champion in the first game.

In the match between Harikrishna and Grandelius, the Indian looked under pressure despite playing White. But he kept it cool and forced a draw in a bishop-pawn endgame.

Meanwhile, world junior champion Pranav V, playing Black, was knocked out of the tournament after he lost the second game against GM Nodirbek Yakubboev of Uzbekistan in 38 moves.

8 SL players to leave Pak after bomb blast

AGENCIES @Colombo

AT least eight Sri Lankan cricketers will return home without playing in their tri-nation white-ball cricket series against Pakistan and Zimbabwe due to security concerns, a Sri Lankan official said on Wednesday.

The players have expressed fears for their safety following Tuesday's suicide bombing in the Pakistani capital, which killed 12 and wounded 27 outside a court. "The second ODI against Pakistan tomorrow is in doubt, but substitute players will be sent to continue the tri-nation series," a Sri Lanka Cricket (SLC) source told a news agency.

SLC president Shammi Silva said that they were preparing a formal statement about continuing their participation in the tournament. Six Sri Lankan players were wounded in March 2009 when gunmen opened fire on their team bus as it was taking them to Gaddafi Stadium in Lahore for a Test match.

The incident led to international teams staying away from Pakistan for nearly a decade.

Pakistan beat Sri Lanka by six runs in the opening one-day international in Rawalpindi on Tuesday, a game that went ahead despite the suicide attack in the twin city of Islamabad. The remaining matches are scheduled to take place on Thursday and Saturday, also in Rawalpindi.

KANTARA CHRONICLES

Step into the real-life shooting location of this hit period film shot across the Malnad regions of Karnataka

SRUSHTI KULKARNI

THE film Kantara: Chapter 1 isn't just a cinematic epic; it is a profound journey into the heart of Karnataka's untouched coastal and Western Ghats region. Far from the polished sets of typical studio films, the true magic of the movie lies within its rugged, real-world backdrops — the lush green hills, cascades and dense forests that shape its very narrative. Our travels take us deep into this enchanting wilderness, tracing the footsteps of Berme (Rishab Shetty's character in the film). While the director's native village, Keradi, is a popularly known location, here are some of the lesser known ones.

HEGGADDE

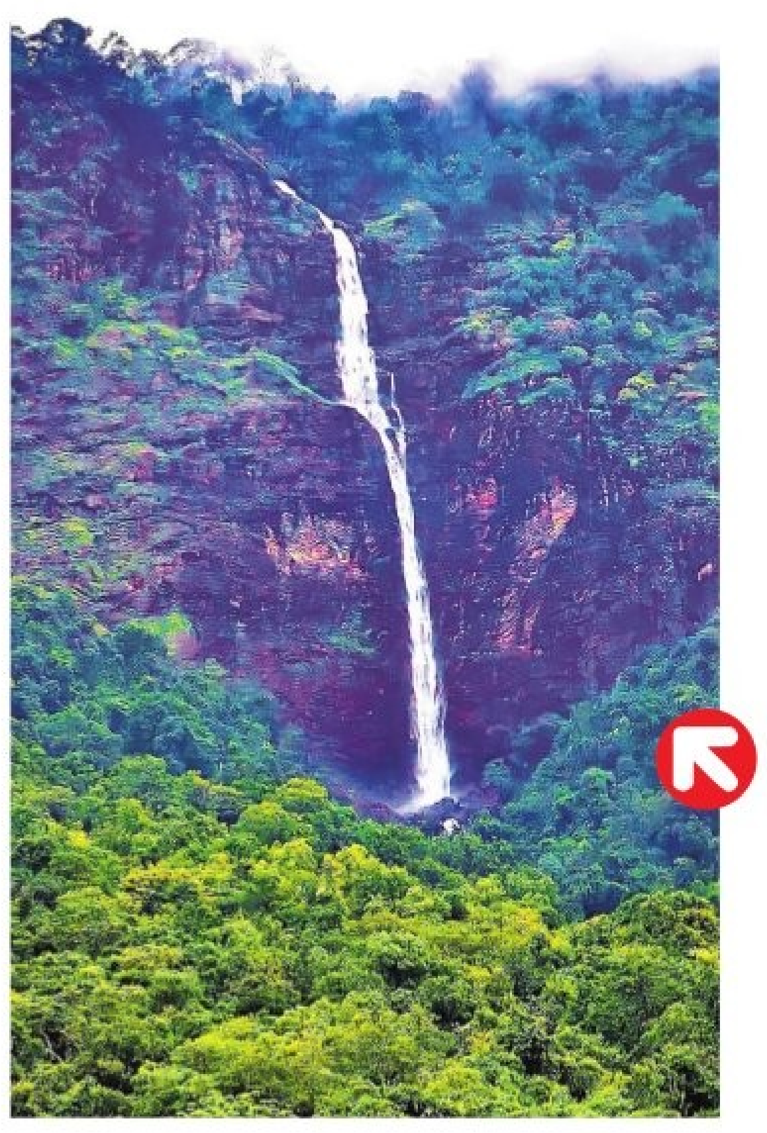
A significant portion of the hit prequel was filmed in and around Heggadde, a village near Keradi, Kundapura. A massive, 25-acre set was constructed in the mountains here to accommodate the production and it served as the base for many outdoor scenes, capturing the authentic feel of the region's tribal life. It was used extensively for scenes depicting the Bangra city, markets and temple that is central to the entire saga, especially the chariot, early interactions between the king's men and the lead actors.

SAKLESHPURA

Gavi Betta (also known as Gavigudda) in Heruru village, within the Yeslur range in Sakleshpur of Hassan district was where some of the forest scenes were shot. The area is on the fringes of a protected deemed forest area. The team sought special permission to shoot in the Gomala (grazing) land on the edge of Gavi Betta. The major war sequences in Kantara: Chapter 1 are reportedly filmed in the mountainous and forest regions around these areas.

THOMBATTU FALLS

This multi-tiered waterfall was the backdrop for a significant, high-stakes action scene where the protagonist, Berme and his villagers are attacked by the Bangra army. Its raw, serene and powerful beauty made it a perfect choice to represent a mystical spot in the sacred land, connecting the story's human and divine elements. Sweeping aerial shots showing mist and dense forest surrounding the falls were used to set a magical, spiritual tone. The crew reportedly had to hike through the forest to reach the location to ensure the scene had the most natural and immersive feel possible.



BELKAL THEERTHA FALLS

As the prequel is set during the reign of the Kadamba dynasty — a massive, custom-built, indoor palace set was constructed in Kundapura. Acting as the backdrop to the temple and palace scenes is this serene cascade captured in Mudoor — a peaceful village in Kundapura, surrounded by the Western Ghats. Nearby, inside the Mookambika Wildlife Sanctuary, lies this Belkal Theertha Falls, one of the purest waterfalls in the region, which can be spotted across the film.

MANI DAM

The vast backwaters of the Mani Dam (constructed across the Varahi) provided sweeping cinematic shots of large water bodies surrounded by the lush rainforests of the Western Ghats. A set, including a ship, was constructed in the backwaters for the Bangra's (imaginary city) port scenes. A portion of the set even collapsed during shoot due to heavy rains, highlighting the unpredictable nature of the location. The misty valleys and surrounding greenery created a surreal and majestic atmosphere, adding depth and scale to the film's ancient setting.

DAY'S DIARY

Terrorist attacks in Paris

On this day in 2015, a series of coordinated terrorist attacks in Paris killed around 130 people.

EARLIER ATTACKS

France was shaken on January 7, 2015, too by a deadly assault on the offices of satiric magazine Charlie Hebdo. Over the following 48 hours, six more people were killed in attacks in and around Paris.

INVESTIGATION

As investigators established the identities of the attackers, attention turned to Belgium, where the plot's suspected mastermind, Abdelhamid Abaaoud, had extensive ties.

TRIAL

Paris attacks trial saw more than 300 lawyers, 2,500 plaintiffs, 20 defendants, and the court considered more than one million pages of evidence.

WHEN WE WERE YOUNG...

With Children's Day right around the corner, Bengaluru celebs reminisce about the games that shaped their fondest memories of childhood

MAHIMA NAGARAJU, ANJALI RAM

AS the sun sets on a summer day, you count down from 10 as your cousins find hiding spots in nooks and crannies throughout the street. Maybe you've spent the day playing cricket and causing havoc with friends, or indoors, enjoying games like chowka bara or aliguli mane with your grandparents. Whatever it may have been, the games we play as kids, the people we play them with and the ways they form us and our experiences of childhood, are undeniable. As children across the country gear up to be celebrated and pampered on November 14, CE takes Bengaluru celebrities on a stroll down memory lane by asking: What are the games that really shaped your childhood?

PRANITHA SUBASH, ACTOR

After school, I would rush over to my neighbours. There were eight of us girls in the same lane where we lived, all about the same age. I mostly played hide-and-seek with my girl gang. Now I see it has become a common game; even a one-year-old is picking it up. My son hides behind the curtains and says 'peek-a-boo' – this generation calls it that, but for us, it was hide-and-seek. I think the game appeals to all ages. We also played Marco Polo blindfolded, and we would often turn it into a treasure hunt mixed with some challenges, as we saw on Nickelodeon. Thinking about those times makes me feel blessed that we had so much free time and didn't need moms to arrange playdates. Nowadays, it's become complicated to keep kids engaged, but back then, it was pretty convenient.

RAJAVARDAN, ACTOR

I used to love cars and often played with a lot of car toys. Hide-and-seek was another fun game that I played with friends. I would hide in tricky places, and when they finally gave up, I would come out laughing! From playing with toy cars to going on long drives and even off-roading with my cousins now, it has become one of my best stress busters. I enjoy playing hide and seek and little races with my younger cousins, too – it's fun watching them enjoy just like we used to. I really think it's important to keep these simple games alive; you don't need phones or gadgets, just friends, laughter and a little imagination.

PRUTHVI AMBAAR, ACTOR

I was born and brought up in a remote village and my go-to game was obviously cricket. But besides that, was mara kothi, literally translated as tree-monkey game, where one player went to pick up a stick while others climbed the trees as high as possible to never get caught by the opponent. As kids, we used to play this game very often.

SAMYUKTA HORNAD, ACTOR

My dad was a little strict, so TV was banned in my house. As soon as we came back from school, a lot of us used to be on the road playing lagori, cricket, kunte bille (hopscotch), chowka baara and other games that my grandmother used to teach us. One of the things that made me who I'm is playing outside in nature with dogs, cats and other animals. Even now, during my time off, nature is my escape. Cricket is one of those games that I continue to play today. Everyone in my family is obsessed with cricket. I even play it during film shoots – one of the games was on the sets of Max (2024).

NIRUP BHANDARI, ACTOR

My brother, Anup, and I used to play cricket, especially during summer vacations in Puttur. We had a group of three to four friends and we'd race our cycles around the area. We also played board games like carrom, snakes and ladders and chenne mane, which is common in Mangaluru. We loved playing lagori too. One memory I recall from that time is of my cousins and me playing a card game with a rolled-up mattress next to us. One of my cousins suddenly said, 'Look! A snake!', pointing at something sticking out of the mattress. I confidently pulled it, saying, 'Eh, no, it's just a belt,' and suddenly it moved (laughs). It was a house surrounded by a forest area, so when we opened up the mattress, it slithered away.

VASISHTA SIMHA, ACTOR

I spent most of my childhood on the streets – always playing, always into something. We had separate groups for different games: lagori, kabaddi, gilli dandu and cricket. Among them, goli was my go-to whenever I visited my hometown, Ramanathapura. Goli had many variations, one was where you lined up the golis and shot it to a hole. Of course, the fun often turned into playful fights – targeting opponents and focusing on winning. After a session of goli, we'd head to the Kaveri river for a swim. I really miss those street games; at our age, our lifestyle doesn't allow that. I'm waiting for my son to grow up so I can play with him. Back then, it was easy to socialise, play and bond with each other. We never worried about vitamin D deficiency because we were always out in the sun, building immunity while socialising came naturally.

Chandan Kumar, Actor

My friends and I used to play cricket with a paper ball and an exam pad as our bat (laughs). We were always getting in trouble with our parents. Once, I brought a puppy home to play with and hid it in a cardboard box, thinking I could take care of it without anyone knowing. But it cried through the night, frightening me because I believed in ghosts back then and thought the sounds were coming from a spirit. That night, my parents found out and I got in a lot of trouble!

This unique grandmother-granddaughter duo's lunch club draws people looking to sample an ajji's authentic Karnataka 'yele oota' while learning how to play the state's traditional board games

Eat, Play, Love

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

A family enjoying yele oota (above) Triveni Nagappa and her granddaughter Natya Adrika play a game of chess at their residence in South Bengaluru | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

NESTLED among the tall buildings and serenity of a gated community in South Bengaluru is a cosy apartment where a 68-year-old and her granddaughter's small business serves up the taste of home alongside fun games. While guests anticipate Triveni Nagappa's piping hot bajjis, bondas, pallyas and jolada rottis served up on banana leaves, her 9-year-old granddaughter Natya Adrika keeps guests company, teaching them traditional board games like ali guli mane, chowka bara, daya (pagade) and aadu huli aata.

Oota and Aata came to be when Nagappa's family moved back to Bengaluru after residing in Chennai, just before the pandemic hit. Cooped up at home, Nagappa felt a calling to utilise her cooking skills while supporting her family. "Around this time, my husband fell sick and I wanted to be financially independent," explains Nagappa, adding, "I started making pudis, chutneys, other snacks and sometimes breakfast for people in our gated community. And since my son and daughter-in-law were also at home, they pitched in and helped me set up the business."

Six months ago, the family started hosting a lunch club on weekends, spreading the word in their gated community. Around three to four months ago, they opened up their home to the larger public. Why yele oota? Nagappa answers, "Because usually everyone enjoys it!" Putting together the meal is no quick task, with yele oota traditionally served only during special occasions. Nagappa says, "After finishing breakfast around 8am, I get started with the food preparation and it goes on until 11 or 11.30am. Without any hired help, it's just me and my daughter-in-law with some help from my son."

The spread she offers is a full deal. Her son Jaswant, who helps her with the business, explains, "Apart from the standard pickle and salt, we have two vegetables or 'pallyas' with jolada (jowar) roti or akki (rice) roti. For the main course, we've had dishes like mini masala dose, shavige, lemon rice, vangi baath and anna saaru. We end with curd rice and two types of sweets – recently we made wheat laddus, which are made purely with wheat and dry fruits. Of course, we also have a vada or bajji. The menu changes every day."

Apart from the mother's touch that sets her apart from typical South Indian meals served across the city's restaurants, is the lesser-known recipes she sometimes features on the menu. "There's 'lablab unde' – I don't know where the name came from, but it's made with rice flour with a bit of chilli in it and eaten with chutney. This and a few other dishes are drawn from our roots in North Karnataka," says Jaswant.

Putting the Aata in the Oota

Adrika got involved in the business through her love for traditional board games. Jaswant explains, "Our house often gets filled with grandmothers as my mom has four sisters and my wife's mother visits often. So Adrika grew up spending a lot of time with them and picked up these games through them. My wife, too, is very passionate about traditional games and has stitched all the boards we use with silk. As an only child, my daughter has always missed having siblings. Since she loves these games, we thought, why not blend the two? She's happy to always have someone to play with now."

The stream of guests into Nagappa's home has been diverse, according to Jaswant, with Karnataka natives and Bengalureans who have moved from elsewhere seeking them out, especially after a reel about them received some attention online. "Surprisingly, we've had all kinds of people come who mainly heard about us through word of mouth because we haven't done much marketing. We've had old couples coming, younger ones who want a homely meal, as well as lots of people from out of state and foreigners who are visiting the city."

MISS-FIT

Wanitha Ashok

The expert is a Fit India Movement Ambassador and celebrity fitness coach

I get breathless after climbing two flights of stairs. How do I improve my stamina?

Stamina isn't built overnight, it improves with consistency. Here's how to build your stamina without overcomplicating it:

- Start where you are, not where you wish you were. Begin with short bouts of brisk walking, light cycling, or climbing stairs slowly for a few rounds. The goal is to move more often.
- Make walking a daily non-negotiable. Pick up the pace until you can hold a conversation but still feel slightly challenged. Try to hit 30 minutes on most days.

ASK AN XPERT

- Once comfortable, add 30 seconds of faster walking followed by a minute of slower recovery. This 'work-rest' approach builds both aerobic and anaerobic stamina.
- Don't ignore resistance training. Focus on full-body movements like squats, lunges, push-ups, and rows, executed with good form.
- Practice inhaling through your nose and exhaling through your mouth while you walk or climb stairs.

SMART & SUSTAINABLE WEIGHT GAIN: A BALANCED GUIDE

There are some people who want to lose weight and struggle. But there's another side to the story of people trying to gain weight. For the people who are trying to gain weight, it might be difficult to do it in a healthy, sustainable way. There are also some people who struggle to maintain weight for their height, age, and body type. So let's understand the impact of being underweight and how you can get to healthy body weight.

HOW TO KNOW IF YOU'RE UNDERWEIGHT

A practical starting point is your Body Mass Index (BMI):

- BMI under ~18.5 suggests underweight according to general guidelines.
- BMI is a blunt tool. It may not accurately reflect the picture for very lean-bodied, muscular, or athletic individuals.

RISKS OF BEING UNDERWEIGHT:

Being too light isn't harmless. Some of the issues you may face include:

- Reduced bone-density/ osteoporosis
- Skin, hair, and dental issues – because your body is not receiving enough nutrients
- Dizziness and a weaker immune system
- Poor growth and development

HOW TO GAIN WEIGHT IN A HEALTHY WAY:

Gaining weight isn't about 'just eating more', it's about eating smart and combining that with the right movement.

Diet & Nutrition

- Choose nutrient-rich foods that deliver healthy calories
- Shift from large meals to frequent smaller meals or snacks
- Avoid relying on junk or highly processed high-calorie foods

Exercise & Movement

- Build mass (ideally muscle mass), focus on resistance training/ weightlifting rather than high-intensity cardio which burns large amounts of calories
- Choose motions that support muscle building such as compound lifts, body-weight exercises, and progressive loading
- Mindful inclusion of lower-intensity activities like yoga or pilates can support core strength and mobility but should not replace your mass-building workouts if your goal is weight gain.

If you've struggled to gain weight, know that the path is strategy + consistency, not crash 'bulking' and shortcuts. With intentional adjustments to your food intake, exercise planning, and awareness of any underlying medical condition, you can move sustainably towards a healthier weight.

MACHO MYTHS & MORTAL RISKS

Oral cancer shows early signs but they are often ignored until it's too late, driving India's oral cancer crisis among men

TEJAL SINHA

SANJAY (name changed) noticed the ulcer first – a small sore on the inside of his cheek that refused to heal. It stung when he ate spicy food, bled when he brushed too hard, but he told himself it would pass. As a father and provider, there was always something more urgent than his own health. By the time he finally saw a doctor, it was too late.

Stories like his are heartbreakingly common across India. Oral cancer has become a major health concern, claiming thousands of lives each year; most of them are men. Despite being one of the few cancers with visible warning signs, it's often diagnosed late. Experts say the issue lies not just in habits like tobacco or alcohol use, but in denial and a cultural mindset that teaches men to endure rather than seek help.

"Most men ignore early signs like non-healing ulcers, bleeding gums or changes in speech and eating habits because of a carefree attitude," says Dr Avinash Chaitanya, senior head & neck surgical oncologist at CARE Hospitals, Hitec City, adding, "For many, health takes a backseat as they prioritise work and family. The pressure of providing financially makes them neglect minor symptoms and avoid medical attention until it's too late."

He states that early indicators are often subtle and easy to dismiss. "Mouth ulcers, bad breath or difficulty eating spicy food are brushed off as routine dental issues. But these are the stages when intervention can make the biggest difference," he adds.

Dr Saadvik Raghuram Y

According to Dr Chaitanya, the link between oral cancer and certain habits is well established. "Tobacco and alcohol intake significantly increase the risk. Chewing tobacco, gutka, zarda or betel nut (supari) are major contributors. When combined with alcohol, the effect is particularly harmful. Since these habits are more common among men, they are naturally more prone to developing oral cancers – often at a younger age," he explains.

Echoing this, Dr Saadvik Raghuram Y, HOD – medical oncology and haematology at Arete Hospitals, notes that early-stage oral cancer treatment is simple and highly effective, while late-stage cases demand extensive surgery, radiation or reconstruction. "If a mouth ulcer, lump or patch doesn't heal within two weeks, get it examined. Early detection doesn't just save tissue or appearance; it saves life and dignity," he says.

Societal expectations also play a damaging role. "The idea that 'men should be strong' and 'men don't feel pain' has existed for generations. It creates a mindset where men visit a doctor only when things become serious. Changing this perception through targeted education and male-focused health initiatives is crucial," explains Dr Chaitanya.

Dr MA Suboor Shaherose, consultant, haematology and medical oncology at CARE Hospitals, Banjara Hills, has seen this attitude repeatedly. "It's striking how often men come with oral cancers that began as small ulcers or red-and-white patches they ignored for months. They assume it's due to sharp teeth or spicy food and wait for it to heal. This 'wait and watch' approach delays diagnosis until the cancer has advanced," he notes.

But oral cancer doesn't always trace back to tobacco or alcohol. Dr Praveen Kurapati, orthodontist and founder of Park Dental Care, recalls how his father's battle with lung cancer, despite being neither a smoker nor a drinker, shaped his approach toward preventive care. He now conducts regular screening drives. "Patients often come with burning sensations or redness and assume a gel or mouthwash will fix it. But that's not a solution. Early check-ups can identify potential precancerous changes long before they turn dangerous," he expresses.

All the experts agree that myths remain one of the biggest barriers. "People still believe oral cancer affects only older individuals or that quitting tobacco after years of use won't help. Others rely on home remedies or fear that surgery will make cancer spread. These misconceptions are dangerous," Dr Chaitanya shares.

At its core, the message from all four doctors is simple but urgent; don't ignore the small signs.

Women are increasingly including strength training into their fitness routines

DARSHITA JAIN

Over the past few years, something quietly shifted in conversations around fitness – the obsession with 'getting slim' began to fade, replaced by something far more empowering: getting strong. More women, across age groups and professions, are gravitating towards strength training.

Kiran Dembla, a well-known celebrity fitness expert, has been on the frontline. She says, "Women are more empowered than ever to take control of their fitness, and I'm loving the growing popularity of strength training and functional fitness among them. It's not just about looking good…it's about feeling strong and confident," she says.

That shift in language – from 'toned' to 'strong' has been central to how women relate to fitness. Dembla notes, "Women often feel a sense of confidence that goes beyond the gym."

Dr Venkat Nani Kumar B, senior consultant, internal medicine and sports medicine at Apollo Hospitals, has observed the same evolution from a health perspective. "Just 140 minutes a week can reduce heart-related mortality by 30 per cent. It also helps build bone density while preserving muscle mass, boosting metabolism, and improving posture, balance, and immune function. Despite lingering myths, weight training doesn't cause women to 'bulk up'. Lower testosterone means they tone down," he says.

Bobby, personal trainer, and group dance fitness instructor notes that the journey doesn't come without hurdles; especially for beginners. "Start with three days a week. Begin with a 45-minute session that includes a warm-up, move into the main workout, followed by a good cool-down with static stretches. It is about maintaining a balanced routine. Cardio could be anything such as treadmill, cycling, outdoor running or swimming," says Bobby.

Dr Venkat explains how functional fitness helps. "It focuses on movements like squatting, lifting, pushing, and pulling, mimicking daily activities. It improves strength, balance, coordination, and flexibility, helping individuals perform everyday tasks more safely. Physicians recommend it to enhance mobility, reduce injury risk, and support long-term independence, especially as we age. Training the same muscle groups daily isn't recommended. We advise alternating workout intensity or target areas and incorporating active recovery or mobility sessions to allow proper muscle repair and reduce injury risk," he notes. Adding a note of caution for those just getting started, Dembla says, "A common mistake is not focusing on proper form and technique. This can increase risk of injury and reduce effectiveness. Another is not enough recovery time."

Dr Venkat adds that overtraining is a risk. "Train major muscle groups two to three times per week, allowing at least 48 hours of rest between sessions for the same muscles. Proper rest, nutrition, and sleep are vital to recovery and help prevent overtraining, which can lead to fatigue, burnout, and reduced performance," he says.

I trained for eight years to become an actor: Dushyanth

From political lineage to the silver screen, Dushyanth is set to make his mark with rigorous training, theatre discipline, and a keen eye for performance under director Simple Suni's guidance

A still from the film

Dushyanth

CE FEATURES

DUSHYANTH is determined to be more than just the son of politician SR Srinivas, popularly known as Gubbi Srinivas. With his debut film Gatha Vaibhava releasing this week, he stakes a claim as an actor who aims to earn his place on merit.

"People might think I am here only to make a name and then follow my father's footsteps. But I have worked for 8 years to become an actor, and I've done street plays, stage dramas, workshops, gymnastics, practiced martial arts, and undergone weight loss. That journey itself shows that I am here to stay," he asserts.

His debut comes under the direction of Suni, known for his unconventional storytelling. When asked why he chose Suni for his launch, Dushyanth explains, "During my time at the theatre troupe, my guru told me a launch with Suni would make the industry notice me. I aspired to work with him. When I got the chance, I realised our thinking aligned. Suni does not follow the regular formula. He presents characters, stories, and actors in a unique way. He is ready to push boundaries for cinema, and I am too. I travelled for two years before the film and spent three years during production, so this journey has been true preparation," says Dushyanth.

Another highlight of the film is his on-screen chemistry with Ashika, especially as their story spans lifetimes. "Three things helped. My theatre training gave me discipline and performance understanding. My association with Suni helped me grasp the nuances of the story and my character. Third, working with Ashika. Initially, I was hesitant in our first scene, but over time we developed a nice rapport. Despite having worked with stars like Chiranjeevi and Nagarjuna, she was an active participant in the workshops, rehearsals, and scene discussions. Her experience and professionalism helped me grow, and eventually we bonded well. She became like family," says a content Dushyanth.

The film explores reincarnation, a theme Dushyanth personally connects with. "Our mythology and Hindu puranas speak of reincarnation. I relate to it, which made inhabiting the character more natural," says the actor, who's glad that his training came in handy for a film that demanded his versatility.

Delving deeper into what it took to become the hero of a Suni film, Dushyanth says, "Gatha Vaibhava blends mythology, period drama, and contemporary storytelling. Preparation was rigorous. We rehearsed extensively before schedules, worked with top technicians, and even created miniature versions of sequences. Locations and art design were carefully studied. Every element had homework, which made the experience precise and disciplined."

Nevertheless, a film of this scale and working with a celebrated director like Suni could have been daunting. "Suni's style may seem simple on the surface, but his writing and thought process are extraordinary. He experiments with leads, narrative, and character, defying regular formulas. That naturally raises expectations, and we embrace it fully," he says.

Signing off by sharing his experience of the first lap of his journey to be an actor, Dushyanth says, "This film is not about shortcuts or lineage. It is about preparation, craft, and commitment. Working with Suni is a rare opportunity to learn and perform. I want the audience to feel that when they watch Gatha Vaibhava."

Udaala Is my love letter to uttara Karnataka : Amol Patil

The debutant director shares his candid take on cinema, mentorship, and mischief

A still from the film

CE FEATURES

WITH its spirited dialect, earthy humour, and heartfelt storytelling, Udaala, starring Ravi Shamanur and Hrithika Srinivas, is set to release in theatres this week. The film marks the directorial debut of Amol Patil, who spent years learning under Yogaraj Bhat. For him, this is not just a first film but a heartfelt tribute to his homeland, Uttara Karnataka.

In a candid conversation, the director speaks about his journey, his bond with Yogaraj Bhat, and what it means to keep the Udaala spirit alive.

Q&A

What's your equation with Yogaraj Bhat over the years?

Yogaraj sir is more than just a godfather to me. Over the years, the barrier of being a colleague has vanished, and now it feels like family with him. He never sits me down to teach what is right or wrong; instead, he lets me observe. Just by being around him in his ventures and wild ideas, I have learned so much. Even after all these years of assisting him, I still get spellbound looking at the immense talent he holds.

How has that bond shaped your work as a filmmaker?

It is hard to explain, or maybe it is very easy. In every way, it has helped me. The biggest thing I have learned from him is to think abnormally. That is where real creativity lies.

How did Yogaraj Bhat react when you told him about your idea for Udaala?

He was the happiest person. Since both of us are from North Karnataka, we mostly speak in that tongue. He instantly channelled all his energy into making the project better with me. He has gone out of his way many times to support me. I can never repay that.

What does Udaala mean to you beyond being your debut?

It is a dream come true, a tribute to Uttara Karnataka, my native Bijapur, and everything that makes it special. Udaala is not just a debut; it is an emotion and a celebration of where I come from.

Tell us about the film and its spirit.

Udaala is all about energy and entertainment. I want audiences to enjoy it together. It is a true theatre film. The dialect, often used just for sidekick roles, finally takes center stage here. Comedy, love, and emotions feel more alive through this language.

Who are the key people behind Udaala?

Apart from Yogaraj sir, my producer Ravi Shamanur has been a blessing. His vision is unmatched. Pruthvi, my lead actor and buddy, has outshone himself. My team, Veeresh, Shivshankar, Chethan Daavy, and Madhu, have all given their hearts for this film.

What do you think defines a director?

We are here to do what we love. A hundred years from now, no one will remember us, so while we are here, I just want to entertain people in my way and stay happy doing it.

And finally, what does the word Udaala mean to you?

We were all Udaala, naughty, as kids; we just got better at hiding it as we grew older. Maybe it is time we kept that Udaala alive.

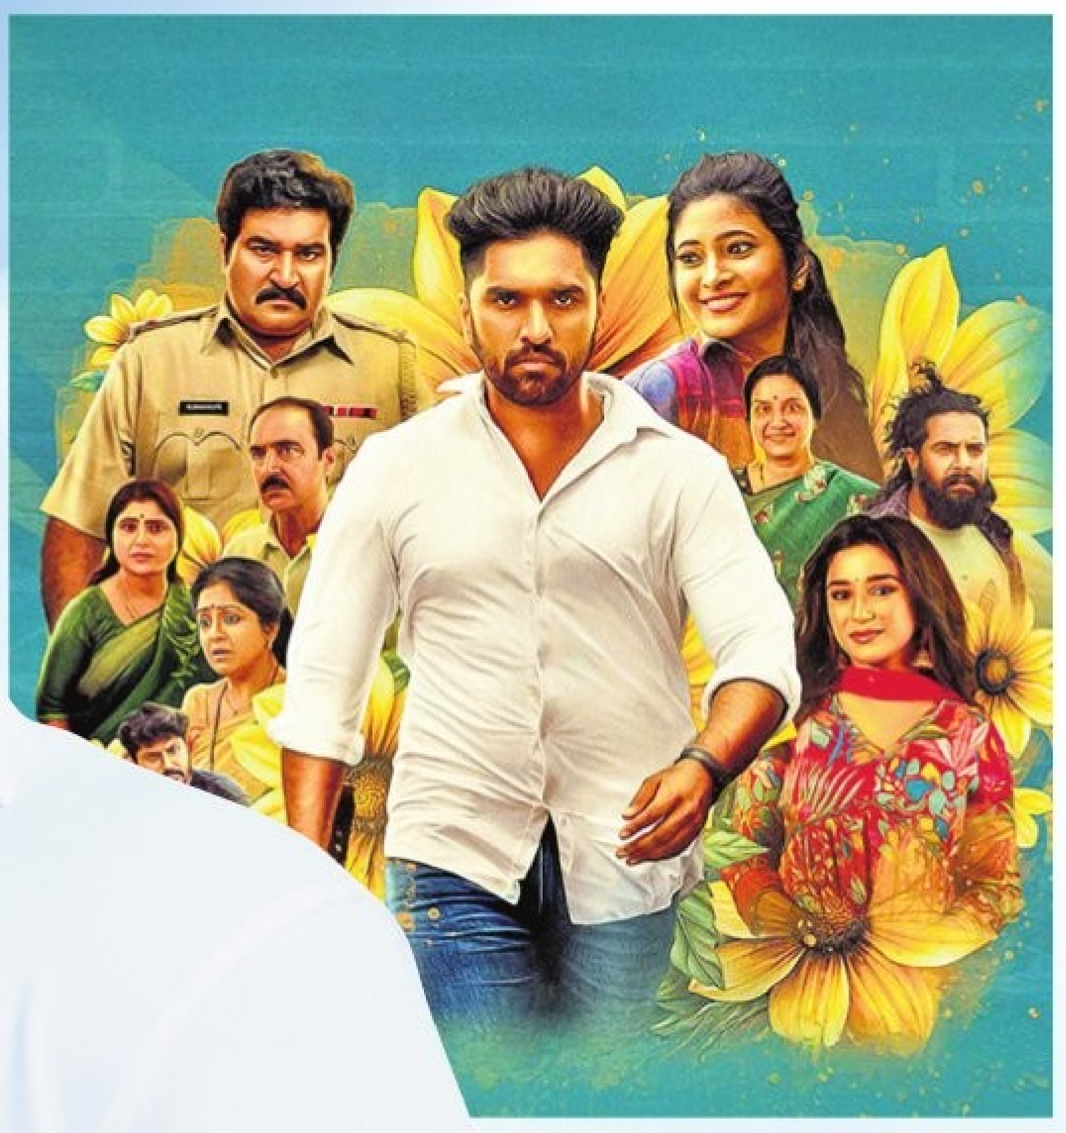
With his second directorial venture Love OTP, actor-filmmaker Aniissh steps into a new creative zone, balancing his roles as storyteller, performer, and the captain of his own ship

NO LOVE, NO PRESSURE; ONLY PURPOSE: ANIISSH



A SHARADHAA

ACTOR-turned-director Aniissh is back with his second directorial after Ramanujam. Titled Love OTP, Aniissh assures that this step was not driven by pressure or love but by purpose. "When you want something, you must take it up yourself. Nobody will come to make your dream happen. I have to do it, and I am happy doing it," says Anissh, adding, "Even if it means losing 36 hours of sleep over the last few days, I am fine. I am excited to show what I am capable of."

Produced by Vijay M Reddy under Bhavaprita Productions and presented by Pushpa Munireddy, Love OTP also marks the comeback of actor Pramodini and stars Swaroopini, Jahnvi Kalakeri, Swathi, Telugu actor Rajiv Kanakala, and Krishna Bhatt in key roles. With music by Anand Rajavikram and cinematography by Harsha Vardhan K, the film is slated for a November 14 release.

For Anissh, direction is not a departure from acting but an extension of his creative space. "When you understand the technical aspects of filmmaking and also bring in your experience of acting in 13 films, you begin to see the bigger picture. Nothing comes on a platter. We have to serve it ourselves. When people watch Love OTP, I want them to take something away from my work, something that shows my growth and clarity."

Interestingly, Love OTP has been shot as two separate films in Kannada and Telugu. When asked if this decision was influenced by the larger Telugu market, Aniissh explains, "Back in 2010, I had already tried working in multiple languages when the market was not ready for it. I had one leg in two boats and it did not work then. But now I am more confident and stronger. I did not want to make one film and dub it into another language. I wanted to create two distinct versions. As a debutant in Telugu, I am trying to understand how that audience receives such films."

Cricket forms not only the backdrop of the story but also mirrors Aniissh's mindset as a filmmaker. "I have worn many hats as an actor, producer, and director. This time, I am the captain of the ship. I think I have done some good batting," he chuckles.

Love OTP, which expands to Over Torture Pressure, is far from a regular love story. The idea took shape while Aniissh was acting in Aaram Arvind Swamy. "I was simultaneously working on the script of a romcom and wanted to make a love story that felt different. The phrase Over Torture Pressure came from a discussion with an ACP friend who was talking about his son. That one line stayed with me and slowly turned into a story. The film is not just about the pressure from relationships. Sometimes the pressure comes from within the family too."

The film, he says, is born from personal experiences. "It has turned out exactly the way I visualised it, a thousand percent. A director should be able to imagine his film completely, from the sound to the cut. If he cannot, he should not direct. Love OTP ends in a very satisfying and emotional way."

For Anissh, the road has been built through self-effort and resilience. "There is no support system around me. I have built everything on my own. But I do not take it negatively. Maybe the universe wanted it this way. I am okay carrying the bricks and building the house myself."

Despite the challenges, he feels grateful for the encouragement that has come from within the industry. "People like Shivarajkumar, Ravichandran, and Srimurali have shown their support for Love OTP, and that truly means a lot. The positive talk around the film has already begun, and that gives me hope."

When asked if he plans to continue juggling acting and direction, Anissh smiles. "If a good subject comes from another director, I will sit back and act. That is normal. I enjoy both."

So, is Love OTP really about pressure? "Yes, it stands for Over Torture Pressure, but not for the audience. It is a fun entertainer. Every laugh will be heard in the auditorium. I can bet ten times on that," he says.

As he looks ahead to the release, Aniissh seems calm and certain about his journey. "When I was a producer, nobody questioned me. When I turned director, doubts came up. But I will let my work speak. I know my path and I walk with clarity," he concludes.

> There is no support system around me. I have built everything on my own. But I do not take it negatively. Maybe the universe wanted it this way. I am okay carrying the bricks and building the house myself – Aniissh, actor / director

Diane Morgan joins MCU's VisionQuest

CE FEATURES

Marvel Studios' VisionQuest, the much-anticipated follow-up to WandaVision and Agatha All Along, has expanded its ensemble with the addition of British comedian Diane Morgan. She is widely recognised for her satirical persona, Philomena Cunk, for the show Cunk on Earth. The series, set within the Marvel Cinematic Universe's Phase Six, will see Paul Bettany return as the synthesoid superhero, Vision.

The show, created by Terry Matalas, wrapped filming earlier this year at the UK's Pinewood Studios and is slated for release on JioHotstar in late 2026. Spanning eight episodes, VisionQuest is described as the third chapter in the narrative arc that began with WandaVision.

Idris Elba to return as Luther

CE FEATURES

IDRIS ELBA is coming back as the brooding detective in another Luther film, which is in development at Netflix. Elba first played the iconic role from creator Neil Cross' five-season-long television series, a psychological crime drama, and then in the 2023 film, Luther: The Fallen Sun.

Also returning for the upcoming film is director Jamie Payne, who helmed Luther and Luther: The Fallen Sun as well as actors Dermot Crowley and Ruth Wilson. Cross has written the film's story, where Luther returns to service, as a series of seemingly random and brutal murders take place in London. Payne revealed in a recent statement that it is a dark story and expressed his happiness to reunite with "supreme talents" such as Elba and Crowley and "the extraordinarily talented" Wilson.
